Canoe flips, man drowns in Long Lake

A West Hill man drowned in Long Lake last Tuesday morning when the canoe in which he was a passenger overturned.

Douglas Wallace Hebert, 26, was canoeing with two other people when the craft overturned only 50 feet from shore. The two others reached shore safely, but Hebert, a non swimmer, was unable to save himself.

Hebert and three others were camping on private property, and had "borrowed" the canoe in which the incident occurred.

The patrol boat from the Minden OPP detachment attended the scene shortly after Hebert disappeared, and began dragging the lake bed, but the boat crew were unable to recover the body. The next morning divers from Barrie, Huntsville and Lindsay detachments were called in. They located the body within minutes of entering the water.

Coroner Dr. H. E. Good of Haliburton attended the scene. No post mortem or inquest were scheduled.

Long Lake near Haliburton was the scene of the season's first drowning, when divers from the provincial police detachment in Lindsay assisted in recovering the body of a 26-year old West Hill man.

New contract includes leave plan to ease pressure of declining enrolment

Teachers settle for 8.4 percent raise

Haliburton County Board of Education and its secondary school teachers reached a contract settlement last week that calls for wage increases totalling 8.4 percent over a one year contract.

The settlement was accepted by the Board at a meeting last Tuesday, and was ratified by the secondary school teachers Thursday afternoon.

An additional three percent will be paid beginning in January 1980 through to the expiry of the contract at the end of the school year. The increase will bring the lowest grid position salary to $13,730 and will set the maximum at $29,870.

Principals and vice principals will receive the same increases. Remuneration for extra responsibilities such as department heads and minor department heads, remains unchanged in the new contract.

A cost of living clause, which was included in last year's contract, and which was triggered for the first time last month at the end of the previous contract, has been retained, but has been "capped" at ten percent. The clause, which is effective June 15, 1980, calls for increases based on the percentage change in the consumer price index over the previous 12 months to be "folded" into the salary grid. The trigger remains at eight percent, but is now capped at ten percent, making the maximum possible grid increase two percent for the following contract year.

No redundancy clause is included in the new contract, but a number of measures have been adopted under the terms of the contract to help offset the effects of declining enrolment on the future of teaching jobs in the county. Part-time teachers' clauses have been included to clarify the duties of such teachers, and to give protection to those teachers who agree to work on a part-time basis.

New leave plans were also agreed on for the 1979/80 contract. Under the plan, a teacher can opt to make three quarters or four fifths of his or

Carnarvon phone 'bugs' hurt business

A Bell telephone spokesman said this week that problems with telephone service in the Carnarvon area are expected to be ironed out "within the next week or so."

Bill Stephenson, area manager for Bell, said problems have stemmed from the installation of an Automatic Number Identification (ANI) system to serve the exchange. The system eliminates the need for operator assistance for the placing of long distance calls.

Work to install the new system began several months ago, and at least one Carnarvon area business man has had troubles with his telephone since then.

John Hogg, owner of Mr. Foggs restaurant, said in an interview last week that the problems have included "dead" phones, busy signals for incoming calls when phones were not in fact in use, and the "not in service" recording for numbers that are in service.

Hogg said the problems have hurt his business, since he relies on the telephone for incoming table reservation calls. On several occasions, he said, telephones in the area have been completely out of service for short periods of time.

Hogg said he has contacted the business office about the problem and that "they have admitted there is a problem in the area." Hogg said he thought the problems may have arisen from lines being connected improperly when the ANI system was installed.

Bell area manager Stephenson said in a telephone interview that "we're aware there were a few bugs to worked out" in the Carnarvon exchange.

Stephenson said repairs are continuing efforts to "isolate the exact problem", and confirmed that some lines were connected improperly when the new equipment was installed for the exchange.

"We still have a minor problem with the office shutting down for a minute or so at a time," he said.

In general, the Bell manager said, the machinery "is working quite satisfactorily, but when you hook up a large number of lines, you're bound to have a few problems with it."

He said repairs are expected to have the problems eliminated within the next two weeks.

On the positive side, Stephenson said, once the ANI system is working perfectly, there "should be a lot fewer complaints as to billing errors."

Bell staff work to rule as contract talks stall

County residents experiencing delays and problems with their telephone service may or may not get relief after July 9. That's when Bell Telephone employees will vote on the latest contract offer.

Across Canada, Bell employees have been on rotating strikes, as the company's management and union leaders attempt to come to grips with a new contract.

In the Haliburton/Peterborough/Lindsay district, some 140 employees have picketed two days, and have refused to work overtime, causing delays in some of the more involved jobs around the county. The strike began June 11, the first day this area's Bell employees began picketing. The workers including linemen, installers, and central office employees, walked off the job again last Friday, in another of the union's series of rotating strikes across the country.

Mrs. J. Wrightman, assistant manager of the district office in Peterborough said she couldn't "say very much" about the strike and the terms the employees are asking for, but said she didn't know whether the district's workers would be picketing again this week or not. For the time being, she said, all essential services including installation are being carried out, but no extra or involved work is going on.

Wrightman said she could not disclose details on the proposal or the status of the strike, however one Bell Telephone employee, who preferred to remain anonymous, said "job security is the main thing, and we want overtime to be on a voluntary basis." The union is also pushing for a one-shot cost of living allowance that will see Bell wages rise if the con-

Municipal portion up 5.3 percent

Dysart taxes up 9.8 % as '79 budget adopted

Dysart et al ratepayers can expect an increase on their tax bills following council's approval last week of a 1979 budget up a total of 9.8 percent.

The total municipal portion of the budget is up 5.3 percent, while an increase in the Board of Education's levy to the municipality accounts for the other 4.5 percent. The county levy remains the same.

Residential mill rates will increase to 293.08 from last year's rate of 266.85. Commercial mill rates will rise to 333.34 from 1978 rates of 303.31.

Main increases in the new budget are in the areas of Social and Family Services, and Family and General Government.

Under the heading of Social and Family Services, the new budget calls for estimated expenditures totalling $120,000, up from last year's actual social and family services spending of $75,151. Reason for the anticipated increase in welfare spending is a change in the Unemployment Insurance Act that will require longer work periods before an individual qualifies for benefits.

Dysart et al receive Murray Fearney said Monday that council has budgeted for a sharp rise in welfare payments based on rough estimates that 50 percent of the people who have received UIC benefits in months of slack employment may no longer qualify for those benefits as a result of the UIC Act changes, and may be forced to apply for welfare. The provincial government provides 80 percent funding for welfare benefits, however, reducing by that amount the total increase for welfare appearing under the Social and Family Services heading.

Under the heading of Finance and General Government, the 1979 budget calls for spending of $233,500, up sharply from 1978 estimates of $179,100, but up only slightly from actual 1978 expenditure of $220,805. Largest increases under the heading are for raises in office staff salaries averaging eight percent, and for one time expenditures on anticipated carrying costs for projects now underway. The new budget calls for bank interest payments of $50,000 to cover the costs of short term borrowing for such projects as Head Lake Park, the Pioneer Museum, the Rails' End Station Gallery and the West Guilford Recreation Centre. The amount is almost identical to last year's bank interest costs of $49,406, which were also the result of borrowing to cover the costs of community projects pending the payment of various grants and the completion of fund raising efforts.

Other notable increases in the 1979 budget are a total of $25,000 for land acquisition for industrial sites, and anticipated expenditures of $140,000 for the lakefront park. Wintario and other grants will reimburse the municipality for more than half of that amount however.

Under the heading Environmental Services, the budget calls for expenditures of $100,000 up only slightly from actual 1978 spending of $95,298.

Health Services costs are expected to increase to $86,000 from 1978 actual costs of $69,211. Some $79,000 of that amount, however, is for ambulance services, which are 100 percent funded by the provincial government.

Under the heading Recreation and Culture, council has budgeted for spending of $256,508, up from the $87,108 that was spent under the heading last year. Grants from Wintario and other bodies for community pro-

Council invokes noise by-law against owner of Rockcliffe

by Joe Banks

Anson, Hindon and Minden's new anti-noise by-law was enforced for the first time last week when charges were laid against the Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden.

Two charges, which could bring fines of up to $1000 on each count, have been laid against the hotel as a result of complaints by a village resident. The by-law applies to any "unwanted noise" after 12 midnight and before 7 a.m.

Ted Gardiner, a lawyer representing Dave Willis, manager of the establishment, approached council last Wednesday night, and outlined Willis' concerns, as well as a number of possible remedies to the noise problem. In the meantime, Gardiner is requesting that the hotel be exempt from the by-law at least until the tourist influx has ended, or until the end of August.

"Obviously we face a very, very tough and trying situation," said Gardiner. He said he had not come to council to argue about the legalities and conditions of the anti-noise by-law, but to "plead" for an exemption from it between this week and the labour-day weekend. "We're more than prepared to abide by the terms of it (the by-law)," said Gardiner.

The lawyer said Willis has agreed to hire sound engineers to find the cause of the noise leakage and suggest possible remedies. The hotel will also implement a closed-door policy, in which the main entrance door will always be supervised by an employee, and kept closed whenever possible.

Council was told that Willis installed sound-absorbant tiles when renovations began

Fiddlers, dancers made rafters ring

Competitor in the 60 and over class

Judges faced tough decisions as excellent competitors turned up

Feet were kept tapping and rafters were kept ringing at the Monmouth arena Saturday as performers and fans shared their interest in fiddling and step dancing at the third annual Wilberforce Legion Fiddle and Step Dancing contest.

The day turned out to be a huge success, as some 69 performers, 16 more than the number who took part last year, were on hand to compete for prizes in six categories.

Activities got underway Saturday afternoon with the playdowns in the various categories, and wound up Saturday evening with the finals in all six categories, followed by a dance, that was packed with both contestants and fans.

Walter Klapow, contest organizers, said the contest turned out to be a financial as well as an artistic success, with gate receipts expected to bring in close to $2000 for Legion projects in the community.

Throughout the afternoon, the contestants took to the stage to compete for honours in three categories of fiddling and three categories of step dancing.

Master of ceremonies, Art Jamieson from Beechburg kept the competition on schedule, and treated fans to his own brand of humour between acts. With preliminary judging to pick the top three in each category completed in the afternoon, activities shifted to the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre where the Legion ladies put on a supper for contestants and fans.

Then it was back to arena, where the finals in each category got underway at seven p.m. There wasn't an empty seat in the house as some of Ontario's best fiddlers and dancers displayed their talents.

In the 16 and under fiddle category, 11 year old Donnell Leahy repeated her first prize winning effort of last year to take home the first prize of $35 and a trophy. In second place, also the same placing she enjoyed last year, was 12 year old Siobhena Leagy of Lakefield. Third prize went to 14 year old Bruce Woods of Fergus.

In the open fiddle category, top prize of $100 and a trophy went to Victor Pasowisty, 49, of Whitby. Finishing in second spot was 17 year old Kendra Woods of Fergus, followed by 18 year old Michael LeMoire of Duro.

In the 60 and over fiddle competition, 66 year old Al Smith of Minden fiddled his way to first place and a $40 prize. In second place was Ross Morrow, 70 of Lindsay, while Cecil Junkin finished in third spot.

Among the step dancers, in the 18 and under category, 12 year old Sandra Snedden of Deep River came up with the victory. Finishing second was nine year old Laurie Lynn Boston of Weston, while

One killed, three critically hurt

One man was killed and three others were seriously injured late Sunday afternoon when the car in which they were riding left Highway 35 and rolled over several times.

Dead is Timothy Terrance Toye, 24, of Orono.

Toye and three others were northbound on Highway 35 at about 6:25 p.m. when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve just north of the Twelve Mile Lake bridge. All four occupants were thrown from the vehicle when it entered the east ditch and rolled several times.

Coroner Dr. H. E. Good of Haliburton pronounced the Orono man dead at the scene. The three others were taken to Lindsay hospital, where they were reported to be in serious condition Monday.

Damage to the 1979 car was estimated at $7000.

In other single vehicle mishaps around the county, a Gooderham man suffered a major injury when the car he was driving went out of control and rolled over.

Dennis S. Hunter, 30, was northbound on Highway 507 in the Gooderham area early Sunday morning when the car he was driving left the road and entered the west ditch, colliding with the rock face.

Damage to the Jeep was estimated at $2000.

Another Branford man also escaped injury in a single vehicle crash Saturday. Frank Bricker was eastbound on Highway 503 east of Furnace

Minden committee gets okay for project feasibility study

The museum committee of Anson, Hindon and Minden has received approval from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation to go ahead with a feasibility study for a possible new museum site.

The alternate museum location, which is a 19th century house standing on property owned by Roy Windover in Minden, became a possibility when Windover approached council some time ago, and offered to sell the house and some property around it because of its historical significance. Councilor Len Lonsberry investigated the possibility with the museum committee. Last week, council entered into an agreement with Windover to purchase some of the property around the site provided a grant under the Ontario Heritage Foundation could be obtained to pay for renovation.

her salary over three or four years. In the fourth or fifth year, he or she can then draw the remaining fraction of the salary to provide for a year's leave of absence.

A teacher may now also request a one or two year leave of absence without pay provided proper notification is given in advance.

The total cost of the property would be $30,000, and the agreement, if not acted upon before December 31, is automatically cancelled. "It's protection for both sides," said Lonsberry.

"I'm sure we'll know about the funds in a couple of months."

The feasibility study, which is being undertaken by a firm consisting mainly of cottagers in the area, will be done at a cost of $350, and will be paid for by a Wintario grant. The matching $350, which the museum committee must pay before the grant is approved, will be used for the printing of pamphlets and booklets based on the study.

The firm undertaking the study, Nicol, Ream and Johnson, have agreed to do the work at a substantially reduced rate as a contribution to the project. Members of the firm, museum committee spokespersons, and representatives from the Heritage Foundation will meet soon to discuss what exactly the feasibility study should cover, the major point, according to museum committee chairman Ruth Gorrie, will be to determine which museum facility would best fit museum needs or warrant funds for development. The original museum project has been underway now for three years, while the committee is still raising money for its construction. The study will determine whether the original program would be a better proposition than the refurbishing of the Windover property. It will also determine whether the area warrants the museum or not. As well, council has agreed to maintain the museum if it is built. Gorrie said the study is expected to be completed in four to six weeks.

The next step is for Heritage Foundation representatives to inspect the site, and for a meeting to be arranged between the museum committee and the feasibility study firm.

Haliburton man faces charge of selling liquor

A Haliburton man has been charged with unlawfully selling liquor following an OPP investigation last Wednesday.

Erick Witzke, 50, was charged after a member of the OPP special investigations branch obtained liquor from him.

Witzke will appear in court in Minden to face the charge July 10.

on the hotel, but the fire marshal's office said these were considered a fire hazard. The tiling was taken down, and new, fire-resistant tiles were installed. The new ceiling is not sound absorbent, however, with the result and is directed onto the street. "On one hand, we have the fire marshal's office and on the other hand, we have council," said Gardiner.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said "you just can't keep the door closed, it's so busy," and added that he felt a closed-door policy would be difficult to implement.

"This (the closed-door policy) would be a control factor in order to keep people from walking in and out of the hotel," said Gardiner.

Nesbitt felt the "only way possible" to effectively cut down on noise through a closed-door policy is to stop using the fire exit doors located on the front left half of the building, making use of the main entrance only.

"What we need is some gasping breath," said Gardiner. "If they (the courts) come back day after day with blue slips (subpoenas), they're going to kill us."

Because no instruments were used to measure decibel levels of the "unwanted noise", the by-law may also have its first test in the courts. Willis said "we're just going to hang loose and wait to see if we get any more subpoenas." He said he and Gardiner are considering fighting the charges. The term "unwanted sound" is a blanket phrase, and does not make clear what criteria are used to determine when noise is "unwanted", and at what level it becomes excessive.

Dysart et al is still waiting for their anti-noise by-law to be sanctioned by the Ministry of Environment, but the by-law contains the same basic components as the Anson, Hindon and Minden by-law. It restricts unwanted noise at certain times of the day, but no sound instrument will be used to gauge how much noise is classified as an infraction. Dysart clerk Wayne Wood said "that's the problem with the by-law - just what is unwanted noise?" The municipality cannot justify hiring another by-law enforcement officer for the purpose of enforcing noise infractions, said Wood. Any use of a decibel sound-recording machine would require this, he said.

In the case of Anson, Hindon and Minden, the determination of "unwanted noise" is made by the by-law enforcement officer, acting on complaints from ratepayers. No decibel meter is used.

Bounces off cars, motorcyclist slightly hurt

A Willowdale man miraculously escaped with minor injuries after the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car, sending him off the vehicle into the path of another car Monday afternoon.

The accident occurred on highway #519 west of Redstone Lake landing. James Jenkins, 18, of Willowdale was westbound on his motorcycle, following Craig Tolhurst, 18, also of Willowdale, when Tolhurst's car met an eastbound car on the crest of a hill. The driver of the second car was Juanita Celestino, 24, of Toronto.

The motorcycle collided with one of the two cars which met head on, jolting Jenkins off the vehicle and causing him to strike the Celestino car and roll onto the edge of the highway.

Jenkins has been charged with failing to wear a helmet, riding a vehicle without insurance, and failing to have a license.

Damage to the Tolhurst vehicle is estimated at $3,000 while damage to the Celestino car is estimated at $6,000. The Jenkins motorcycle sustained $300 damage.

Minden fire chief, deputy share work

An increase that would have more than doubled the wages of Anson, Hindon and Minden fire chief Deke Jackson was avoided last week, after he agreed to share his workload with deputy chief Don Booth.

The wage increase, which Jackson proposed to council approximately a month ago, called for his compensatory pay to rise from $900 to $2,000 annually. Jackson said he estimated his total work time per week totalled 10 hours. Council felt the increase in wages was not necessary, and suggested that Jackson consider sharing his workload with the deputy chief, formerly Ron Arbuthnot, who resigned due to health reasons. Don Booth will assume the role of deputy chief, and has agreed to share half the workload with Jackson.

The two men will retain their present wages.

Fiddlers, dancers competed for $800 in prizes

Grace Beauchamp of Otter Lake, Quebec took third place honours.

In the open class, Sheila Thompson, 16 of Kinburn, took home the $100 prize, closely followed by her sister, 18 year old Cindy Thompson. In third spot was Eldon Ostrum, 17, of Bryson, Quebec. In the 50 and over step dancing class, 64 year old Morris Montgomery of Omemee was judged to be the best. In second spot was Gordon Montgomery, 56 of Sutton West. Finishing a chipper and entertaining third was the oldest step dancer of the competition, 82 year old Jim Thompson of Bobcaygeon.

Only complication with an otherwise smoothly run day was the collapse and subsequent death of one of the competitors of an apparent heart attack. The victim, whose name was not available from organizers at press time, had just finished competing in the 60 and over fiddle contest, and had sat down in the audience, when he collapsed. At least two trained nurses among the spectators applied cardio pulmonary resuscitation, while Monmouth firemen supplied oxygen for the stricken competitor, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Haliburton hospital.

Correction

In last week's Echo, it was stated in a story pertaining to the burning of the Paradise Hotel that the hotel was insured over and above the contents. In fact, the hotel and the contents were insured by different companies. The Echo regrets the error.

Anson, Hindon, Minden council meets

At their regular meeting last Wednesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council dealt with the following matters:

Fire chief Wm. Jackson and deputy chief Don Booth attended council to confirm that they were in agreement with the salary schedule offered for 1979.

Council resolved that section 2.4, subsection (b) of the Municipal Statement of Planning Policy be modified upon endorsement by the insertion of a new paragraph which reads as follows: "Notwithstanding the lot area requirement for a lot within a rural estate residential plan of subdivision as specified in the foregoing policy statement, council recognizes that the draft proposal for a plan of subdivision, consisting of twelve lots each having an area of approximately 1,860 square metres, was favourably received and considered prior to adoption of the Municipal Statement of Planning Policy for the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden. It shall therefore be the policy of this document, as it applies to those lands forming part of Lot 10, Concession 'A', designated as 'Rural Estate Residential' that the minimum lot area and frontage requirements shall be 1,860 square metres and 30 metres respectively."

R. Windover and F. Rogers were present relative to an agreement pertaining to the late 19th century E. Wright farmhouse which is part of Windover's plan of subdivision. The reeve and clerk were authorized to execute an agreement with Roy Windover (Highland Gate Estates Ltd.) relative to a farmhouse located on Lots 34 and 35, Registered Plan 593.

Dysart sets 1979 budget

jects carried out under the heading reduce the actual increase substantially however.

Protection for Persons and Property is expected to cost $69,500 this year, up only slightly from 1978 actual costs of $66,602.

Transportation spending has been set at $600,000, up slightly from 1978 actual spending of $536,103, but reduced from 1978 estimates of $625,000.

The new budget also provides for expenditures of $4000 for sidewalks in connection with the eventual repaving of the connecting link in Haliburton Village, and $1000 for the erection of stoplights.

Bridges to get new signs

A new sign indicating maximum gross weight permitted on bridges will be introduced in August, Minister of Transportation and Communications, James Snow has said.

The new sign shows maximum gross weight permitted by three classifications - single truck, combination of truck and trailer, plus combination of truck and two trailers.

Damage to the station wagon was estimated at $1000.

Three bands to be highlight of Legion Carnival parade

At least three marching bands will be the major, crowd-pleasing attractions of this year's Haliburton Legion Carnival.

Set for Wednesday, July 18, the popular July event will feature the Ontario Provincial Police Pipes and Drums band, the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band, and, Barring last minute plan changes, the Canadian Forces Petawawa Base Band.

Besides marching and playing in the Legion parade (7 p.m.), the bands will provide brief individual concerts afterwards in the fairgrounds.

Also marking this, the 34th annual Haliburton Legion Carnival, will be live entertainment Wednesday evening starring the Ike Keneck Band, plus dancing, bar facilities, bingo and an outstanding midway opening at 1 p.m. and featuring a variety of rides, games and booths. Capping the day's events will be the draw for a Ford Thunderbird to be held at the Haliburton Curling Club.

The Carnival is sponsored annually by the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, Haliburton.

Good value

Last week, Dysart et al council set a 1979 budget that is up a total of 9.8 percent over last year's budget. It's an increase that may make some taxpayers cringe a little. Before they get too upset, however, taxpayers should make an effort to put the increase in perspective.

Approximately 4.5 percent of the hike in this year's budget comes from an increase in the education levy. And that increase results not from overspending or a lack of restraint by the board but rather from a decline in provincial grant support for education. It is a trend that has become entrenched in recent years, as the provincial government follows a policy of shifting the burden of education costs back to property owning taxpayers in individual municipalities. It is a trend that is not likely to change in the near future, and the result will be continued increases in education levies.

Education costs then, are one reason for the increase in taxes this year, but they are not costs that can be reduced simply in the interests of austerity. The key to any consideration of increased taxation or decreased expenditure to keep taxes down, is to see benefits versus burdens.

Taxpayers in the Municipality of Dysart et al have little to complain about when it comes to getting their money's worth. For the fact is that a number of projects have been completed in the past year or so, or are now well underway, that in one way or another, have enriched the lives of all who live in the municipality.

At the moment, the Guild Station Gallery is nearing completion. It has been an expensive project, but much of the funding for it has come from sources other than direct municipal taxation. The project has seen a disused building turned into a valuable addition to the community. No reasonable taxpayer can complain about the use that has been made of the building, or about the project's costs. The municipality has also contributed to the completion of the new museum complex at the entrance to Glebe Park near Haliburton Village. The first phase of a new park on Head Lake in the village is also expected to be substantially completed this year. And the old school house in West Guilford has become a community centre, with work to improve it for various uses expected to be completed this year.

To see the completion of these and other projects, the municipality has chosen to make whatever direct contributions are necessary, after all possible grants have been obtained. And council has chosen to make those contributions in the short term. They could have gone a different route of course. It is possible to debenture major projects, amortizing the costs over periods of 20 years or so. That might have kept taxpayers' costs lower on a yearly basis. But in the long term, debenturing the projects would have cost more because of the interest payments involved. And it would also have forced future taxpayers to bear the cost of past projects.

So council has chosen a pay-as-you-go philosophy. It has funded projects to completion, has loaned money to projects such as the curling and squash club in anticipation of Wintario and other grants, and has made the interest on such short term loans forgivable.

Not every taxpayer will agree with council's pay-as-you-go approach. Some, no doubt, would like to see taxes kept as low as possible. But the fact is that taxpayers must ask what they are getting for their money at least as seriously as they question the amount of money being spent.

In Dysart, taxpayers are getting a lot for their money.

Get tough

The time has come for the Province of Ontario to take a long hard look at the way it deals with drivers. At present, a person has only to pass a driving test at the age of 16 and from then on, providing no major health problems arise, that person can be licenced to operate a motor vehicle for the rest of his or her life. For most drivers that works out well. Yet a glance at the police report the Minden OPP puts out every week, is dramatic proof that the system is failing somewhere. And when a system fails, it's time to come up with a better one to replace it.

The truth is that drivers often get worse rather than better with experience. They get complacent, or inattentive, or just plain foolish. And that can be fatal, not only for them but for others with whom they share the roads.

A partial solution would be an increased police patrol of the roads. But that costs money the province may be unwilling to spend. Another solution would be to change the license renewal process to ensure that drivers are retested on a regular basis.

It wouldn't stop all accidents of course. But it might make the roads just a little bit safer than they are now.

Campers on a shady path at Camp Illahee

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I agree with Creighton Feir regarding the unbelievable number of litterbugs deliberately creating pollution.

Again, it's time the section of railway track crossing Hwy. 121 and again at Hwy. 519 near our village should be removed. Should the railroad ever need them back they would be available.

Further, today two vans with flowers, furniture and junk were peddling their wares on both sides of the highway in front of the H.H.S.S. This is not fair to merchants serving this area.

Yours truly,
G. C. Springer,

Editor's Notebook

by Len Pizzev

Until last week, about the only thing I knew about summer camps was that people sometimes used them as a subject for comedy. Who can forget the song that begins, "Hello muddah, hello faddah, here I am at, Camp Grenada". It was a farcical sendup of the joys and quirks of summer camp that must have brought smiles of identification and remembrance to the faces of everyone who ever spent a week or two at a summer camp. And as if to prove that summer camps are still as likely a target for humour and satire as any institution where people gather, a film crew spent most of last summer at Camp White Pine making a feature film that now bears the unfortunate title "Meatballs". Touted by the critics as the Canadian comedy film of the year, it is playing in packed houses.

Obviously, summer camps can be funny places, but can they be other things as well? Until last week, I had never really given it much thought. Then, digging through a file I keep of things to look into on rainy days, or when all else fails, I remembered Camp Illahee. Unlike the song's Camp Grenada, or the zany world of Meatballs' Camp Northstar, Illahee, I knew, was not a camp for the privileged, or even for the children of the middle class necessarily. It was a camp for children of every background who nonetheless have at least one thing in common. All of the youngsters who attend Camp Illahee have serious medical problems, or are hampered by learning disabilities that make them different from children at other summer camps in a special sort of way. The only camp of its kind in North America, Illahee recently moved from Cobourg to newly purchased facilities at the former Drag Lake Lodge. It is a camp that exists to give youngsters needing special care, a chance to experience a week or two in the outdoors that would otherwise be denied to them.

Walking around the grounds last Friday, on the camp's first day of operation, it was hard to grasp that these youngsters chattering excitedly, singing songs in the cafeteria and splashing in the clear waters of Drag Lake, were different from the children at other camps. And that is part of the magic that makes Illahee a place that's hard to forget, even if you spend no more than an hour or two on its grounds.

There was nothing to give you a clue that these were special children. Nothing that is, until you looked and listened carefully. Then it was easy to see that they knew things that other youngsters, perhaps more carefree and a little less mature, did not know.

Like children in all summer camps, they lined up for the mandatory first day's medical. But instead of discussing the trip up from their homes, who got what bunk or what to expect next week, the youngsters talked of a different subject as they waited to see the doctor in the small cottage with the red cross that serves as a clinic for Camp Illahee. Each of them clutched a bag full of the paraphernalia they have learned to live with. One held a portable inhaler and mask to combat asthma attacks. Others had bottles of medication of one kind or another. But the one among them who drew the most attention from her fellow campers was a little girl with syringes in her bag. A diabetic, she must inject herself with insulin every morning. "Ooooh!" one of the campers said to her. "Do you give yourself those needles?"

"Sure," the little girl with the syringes said.

"Does it hurt?"

"A little," she said, with just a hint of sadness.

Watching them share the reality of their health problems, it was easy to feel another kind of hurt. But pity isn't a feeling that plays any part in Camp Illahee.

Later, talking with the camp's director, Dave Sands, I learned that Illahee is dedicated to the concept that the campers are children first and foremost, and only secondarily are they children with medical problems. Sands has been pushing farther every year, the concept of treating the youngsters as normally as possible. Recently, that effort has gone as far as taking haemophiliacs on canoe trips lasting several days. With the right kind of medication always nearby, and with ready access to roads along the route, the trips have been successful, and there have been few problems. Not many people would have the strength and the confidence to accept that sort of responsibility, but Dave Sands has been doing so for years. And even on the first day of Illahee, it was easy to see that the children knew how much "Uncle Dave" Sands cared about their welfare. More than that though, they knew he cared about helping them have a good time.

Within the next week or so Illahee will hold an open house for the public. If you can spare an hour or two to pay the place a visit, don't miss it. You'll come away both with a sense of your own good fortune, and with a sense of admiration for a camp that dares to treat people with problems as normally as humanly possible.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

As the song goes, "It's now those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer". It's now that time of year when we welcome back all the cottagers and vacationers. It's also that time of year when most people take their holidays with the exception of those who work and make their living here in the Highlands of Haliburton. During these next two months we have to really get down to work because the busy season has arrived. Let's make it a point this summer to go out of our way to make everyone who visits the Highlands welcome. If a person needs direction, make sure they get them so that they can reach their destination, stop and say hello to them on the street, get to know the visitors better and make new friends, be courteous to them in the stores and above all, make them feel at home. We want them back again. So we say to everyone who will be visiting the Highlands of Haliburton this summer, "Have a happy vacation and sit back and relax". You've all worked hard all year and you deserve a rest.

Medley's Pizza, who now have three locations, Minden, Norland and Haliburton have announced that they are presenting "A Hole In One Award". Yes, Medley's Pizza, in cooperation with the golf courses of Haliburton County are pleased to offer this trophy to any golfer scoring a "Hole In One" on the five golf courses in the area. We understand that two awards have been handed out already.

I noticed the other day that the public washrooms in Haliburton are closed as usual with padlocks on both doors. We might as well not have them at all if the doors are going to be closed most of the time. The sewers run right by the door and if it's a case of lack of water why not drill a well. Local people as well as visitors are astounded in the fact that they cannot use the public washrooms. This means that other local business establishments are being asked to supply washroom facilities. Granted we have a problem here with vandalism at the washrooms but certainly from time to time one of the municipal employees can keep an eye open on this location. It might be an idea to close them up after midnight when most of the damage could occur. These public washrooms supply a much needed service to the community and it would be nice to see them open once again. As far as I am concerned I'm getting a little bit annoyed at everyone complaining to me about these washrooms being closed. They have a perfect right to be annoyed and let's hope that a solution to this problem can be found in the very near future.

During the past few months we have heard a great deal about the wonderful work being done by the Rotary Clubs of Haliburton and Minden with their student exchange program. In light of this I thought it would be a good idea to reprint an editorial taken from a recent issue of The Highland Rotator, the weekly bulletin of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, which was written by one of the members. We quote:

I was asked Thursday night if I thought the Youth Exchange Program was a worthwhile program and my answer was a very emphatic "yes". Having known all of our exchange students quite well both before and after their visits abroad, I can assure each and every member of the club that deep and significant changes take place in the personalities and lives of the young people we send abroad. They return much more sophisticated, mature, self-confident and self-reliant young people than when they left. They return with a much better appreciation of their own country, of its values and potential and an appreciation of many little things they just took for granted before. Naturally, they learn a great deal about the countries they visit and in some cases they learn a foreign language, experiences which will stand them in good stead for the future. We should not forget, however, that these young people do experience a difficult period of adjustment on returning home and we should do what we can as Rotarians to help them feel comfortable now that they're back. Let's not forget to invite them to meetings and let them know that our interest in them continues. We have a growing group of students who have been abroad as well as some that are going. We also have visiting students coming and going. Let's make sure these people have a medium for getting together through our club. It's one of the most important things we do - I am convinced!

It was good to see our old friend Jim Badgley, former New Editor with the Echo, in Haliburton for a couple of days last week. Jim dropped into the office to renew old acquaintances. He is now with the Arnprior Chronicle.

The Fireside Restaurant in Minden is now under new management with entertainment each weekend in the Fireside Station. Each Sunday they are having a champagne smorgasbord served from noon to 9 p.m.

Don't forget the date. It's this coming Saturday July 7 for the County Fair Beef Barbecue and Dance to be held at the Minden Community Centre (ice surface). Meet and Greet Hour from 7 to 9 p.m. with the barbecue on at the same time. Music will be supplied by the Misty River Ramblers. Dance will follow from 9 to 1 a.m. This is one big event that you won't want to miss.

Many local people from the county have been telling me that they have been busy lately going to Dunsford and Sebright to pick strawberries. In both places, it's a case of pick your own.

At the Haliburton County Echo we are always looking for your opinion through the Letters to the Editor column. So if you have something on your mind that you would like to bring out into the open, why not write us a letter and let everyone know about it. We haven't been receiving enough Letters to the Editor and we are looking forward to hearing from you. All we ask is that you sign your name at the bottom of the letter.

When the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, a reporter asked them, "To what do you attribute your fifty years of successful married life?"

"The formula," said Ford, "is the same formula I have always used in making cars - just stick to one model."

Haliburton Forest's "Boiler Room"

Last week, while providing our new travel consultants with a tour of the area we dropped in for a look at the "Boiler Room" at the Base Camp of Haliburton Wildlife. This magnificent log building was created by Gary Kenney and members of the Haliburton Log Jointer's Guild. The project initially was used as a demonstration site for log building instructions last summer.

The building can be rented from Haliburton Wildlife for group outings and during the winter would provide very cosy facilities. It is named the "Boiler Room" since the huge boiler doors from the original mill have been incorporated into the kitchen-bar opening, and it is heated by a huge wood stove that has been adopted for this purpose from its original boiler room capacity.

The building is a splendid example of the talented craftsmen we have in our county, and a considerable asset to the Wildlife operation.

Hot Tubs Now Locally Available

Contractor Jim Johnston called to let us know that he has acquired the Haliburton dealership for Canadian Hot Tubs Inc. of Kitchener. This firm uses tubs made by the old Canadian Barrel and Stove Co. in Waterloo who have been plying their trade for 107 years. Jim is currently installing a demonstrator unit in his back deck and invites your inspection. The "Hot Tub Craze" that is currently taking over from saunas is well founded Jim says, and once you have tried a Hot Tub you will understand why.

New Owners

Fort Irwin at Haliburton Lake is currently enjoying a "re-birth" after a few years of some considerable difficulty. The latest arrivals on this bustling scene are Mr. and Mrs. Goulet who have purchased the Fort Irwin Grill. The Goulets recently moved to Haliburton from the North West Territories and have chosen our area to settle in after having travelled almost all over the world.

Later this summer the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts will be featuring an incredible collection of Eskimo art at the Guild Station Gallery that will be loaned to them by Mr. Goulet.

On Oxtongue Lake, just east of Dwight, Gudy and Bob Maske are busy building a fine reputation for hospitality at Lakewoods. Highway #60 recently opened a by-pass that carries the main traffic flow around their location, but the Maskes are confident that as the reputation for their fine home cooking (with a special German flavour) spreads, the public will seek them out. They also have excellent accommodation available in clean, modern cottages overlooking their spacious beach.

We heartily welcome these folks to our business community and hope that you will drop in and say hello - and tell them we sent you.

Dances for Young Adults

The South Algonquin Kinsmen Club have scheduled three big summer dances to be held at the Wilberforce arena with quality live entertainment. We were pleased to note that they have booked groups that have a wide range of appeal so that the adult (but young at heart) citizens can enjoy participating.

The first dance will be held this Saturday, July 7 and will feature the well-known Irish group "Seamms and Jammer".

On August 4, "The Family Brown" will visit us from the Ottawa Valley. This excellent group brought the house down at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Convention this spring and will thrill not only country music fans, but anyone who appreciates talent.

The final dance of the season will be held on August 25 and the popular English group known as "Rainbow" will entertain. All age groups will enjoy listening and dancing to these fine musicians.

The Kinsmen are to be congratulated for bringing these excellent entertainers to Haliburton Highlands and we urge you to support their initiative. Advance tickets can be purchased throughout the county, including the Chamber office at $8.00 each, and at the door at $10.00 each. See you there!

Pic of the Past

As you can see by the above photo, things have changed in Haliburton over the years. The Pic of the Past this week which was submitted by Doreen Cowen of Haliburton shows the Drag River at the east end of Haliburton. In years gone by this is the scene you would see if you happened to be driving down Dover's Hill and coming into the Village of Haliburton. This area looks very different from this today.

Bill Smiley

Each man and woman has a way of marking off the years. With some it's birthdays. With farmers it's getting the crops in. With fishermen it's hauling out the old tub for the winter, after the last catch. With golfers it's getting in one final round before the snow flies. And so on.

With teachers, it's struggling through to the end of June without going around the bend. I've just made it for the nineteenth time, and, at time of writing, still have most of my marbles, though I can't say the same for some of my colleagues. They get queerer and queerer every year.

But it is only with the silliest and most sentimental that the end of the school year brings tears, a feeling of loss, a pang of sorrow. Most of us walk out at the end of June and never really care whether we ever re-enter the old sausage factory.

At approximately the same time many mothers are giving a great sigh of resignation, looking fearfully at the summer ahead, when they'll have to cope with their kids twenty-four hours a day, most teachers are giving a mighty sigh of relief because they don't have to cope with those same kids at all for two entire months.

It's not that teachers dislike kids. Perhaps a few do, but they usually wind up in the looney-bin, or slashing their wrists in the bathtub.

On the contrary, most teachers have a basic liking of young people and show them, often, more tolerance and understanding than the kids' own parents do. They'll bend over backwards to listen to problems, suggest solutions and try to motivate the youngsters.

But there comes a point, a sort of sticking point, where even the most benevolent of teachers runs across a kid who would drive his own mother screaming up the wall. And often does.

One of my younger colleagues is still nursing a cracked rib incurred after breaking up a fight in the cafeteria and chasing one of the boys involved half a mile to the local park, all in the line of duty. He does not love and cherish that kid.

Almost every year, when a teacher is in daily contact with approximately 180 teenagers, with their sexual repressions, their hang-ups, their broken homes, their depressions, there are three or four kids he or she can barely tolerate.

These few bad apples are what make teaching a very arduous profession. They are a daily source of irritation with their bad language, bad habits and bad manners.

But every job has its unpleasant aspects, and if you can't cope with a few rotten kids, you should get a job where you have a rotten boss or rotten customers, or rotten pay.

We read recently of high schools in the big cities, where teaching has become something like running the gauntlet of physical and verbal violence. This occurs not only in "inner-city" schools, with their masses of poor kids from broken homes and immigrant kids disoriented by a different culture and language, but also from suburban middle-class schools whose students are over-privileged, also come from broken homes, have too much money, and are extremely materialistic, like their parents. They look on teachers as something like an orange, to be sucked dry and thrown away, like the peel.

Not for me. I couldn't hack that. I'd quit. I'm no dedicated martyr. I don't want a punch-up with three druggies forty years younger. I don't want my tires slashed or my female staff assaulted. I am basically a peaceable coward.

Our school is not like that, and I guess that's why I've hung in here so long. When I started, I had offers to teach journalism at a community college, to do public relations work, to teach at a university.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

The majority of the 63 institutions which give care and shelter to more than 1,100 children and young people in Ontario are experiencing serious problems due to shortage of money. A report released by the Ministry of Community and Social Services says that the present financing arrangement is "inadequate, outdated and not geared to meet the individual needs of each home." Also, inspections of these institutions by ministry officials are "infrequent" and "lack rigor"; staffing in half the homes is inadequate and wages are extremely low. One institution hadn't been visited by a supervisor since the present director started work about two and a half years ago. The ministry review states that two-thirds of the institutions had direct operating losses in 1978 for a total deficit of more than $600,000. These homes provide a wide variety of services for children with social and personal problems: children who are having difficulties at home, unwed teenage mothers and those in trouble with the law. The ministry is offering each institution the option of remaining under the existing funding arrangements or changing to an alternative arrangement based upon an individual agreement with each home. Under legislative regulations, Ontario pays 80 percent of the operating costs while the institutions must raise 20 percent of their revenue from non-government sources. The ministry will meet with officials of the homes to discuss in detail recommendations of the report, which include some program changes, bed closings and reallocation of some resources.

Ontario's new rent review and landlord and tenant legislation passed third and final reading by a vote of 63 to 28. The NDP voted against the 141 section bill, which combines rent review with a rewritten landlord and tenant act and creates a Residential Tenancies Commission. This commission will determine rent increases and other landlord-tenant matters previously handled by the courts.

The government has removed the built-in December 31, 1980 expiry date for rent controls and, when the section dealing with rent increases takes effect, it will limit them to 6 percent a year. If a landlord wants more, he'll have to make his case before the Tenancies Commission.

I find it interesting that the Town of Lindsay figured in the government's secret list of opinion polls, the results of which will not be released to members of the Legislature or the public who pay for them.

Premier Davis has been under strong opposition attack for wasting taxpayers' money on opinion polls, the results of which could have been secured without spending $434,000. Pressed on whether the results could be used by the Conservative Party for political purposes, the Premier would not answer the question directly. Last week the Chairman of the Cabinet's Management Board told Liberal Pat Reid that the government paid more than $434,000 in a year for polls, but he said the results contributed to "policy formation" which could lead to possible legislation, so the results would not be released. The same question came up later during debate on the estimates of the Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs, when the Minister refused to release the results of a poll taken by his ministry. Former Liberal Leader Bob Nixon argued that the people's opinions on such matters as Quebec should be public information. But the Minister said the government's policy is to keep the results secret. Despite their lack of

Legion, LaRue win in men's recreational softball

The season schedule reached the half-way mark last Wednesday in Haliburton men's recreational baseball, and both the LaRue Motors and Haliburton Legion squads seemed to benefit because of it.

Haliburton Lumber and LaRue Motors met in the first game of the evening. LaRue is in first place with a five wins, one loss record, though it was incorrectly stated in last week's story they were unbeaten.

Haliburton Lumber, however, got the jump on the stronger team, and Derwin Barry and Tony Salvatori scored two runs. Brian Mulholland was walked when the LaRue squad came to bat, and following some stealing and batting efforts by Bob Johnston, Mulholland scored a run in the bottom of the first.

A run was scored by both teams in the second inning, first by Dale Robinson for Haliburton Lumber and Jim Debenham for LaRue's. But the Lumber team went ahead another run in the fourth inning when Dwight Sisson was batted in following his single through the efforts of Jim Scheffee. The team kept applying pressure in the fourth and fifth innings, with Tony Salvatori scoring a run, and Sisson lacing a triple in the sixth.

But in the bottom half of the fifth, sixth and seventh innings, the LaRue squad rallied to take control of the game. Following a rash of singles, Mulholland, Johnston and Sid Cooper tagged up to tie the game, and four additional runs were brought in by Brian Lloyd, Mulholland and Johnston in the final inning, making the LaRue come-from-behind victory complete. The final score of the game: LaRue Motors 9, Haliburton Lumber 6. The winning pitcher was Brian Mulholland, while Dwight Sisson took the loss.

The two teams battling for second place in the standings, Haliburton Legion and Curry Motors, met in the late game at Memorial Park. In a game where they almost repeated their performance last week against Haliburton Lumber, the Legion took three quick runs in the opening innings. The scorers were Andy Salvatori, Hugh

New hockey executive named

The new executive for the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association was named at a meeting of the executive last week.

This year, Sid Cooper will take over the position of president, while Len Salvatori, former president, will assist him in the role, and stay on the executive as contact person.

Doug Mitchell will remain as first vice-president and will continue to be in charge of the tri-county house league, while Roy Scott will assume the position of second vice-president and will be in charge of hockey draws. He will also be treasurer for the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourists Association tournaments.

Lois Whittaker has been named secretary-treasurer of the association. Ken Rydman will be in charge of the bantam tournament, and, as a new addition this year, Gary Brohman will introduce and develop an incentive program among the minor hockey players. Crests and trophy responsibilities will go to Grant Rae.

Ann Wood and Mrs. Ken Rydman will be in charge of equipment. Tim Casey has assumed the position as chairman in charge of Pee Wee and Atom tournaments. Bob Nichol will act as co-chairman for these tournaments, and Gary McKnight will also serve on the executive. Bill Hartin will act as referee in chief of tri-county hockey, and Joe Banks has assumed the position as public relations officer for the executive.

Issues also discussed at the executive meeting last week consisted of locating members to serve on the Ladies Auxiliary. Members so far include Norma Scheffee, Ann Wood and Wanda Scott, but, said Salvatori, the executive "is still looking for others."

Some discussion about financing, and possibly rising costs, also took place. Salvatori said registration fees will likely increase for the coming season. Long distance driving to games was another concern, he said, and possible solutions may include parents taking turns driving the children, or "chipping in" for gas money.

West Guilford and Minden battle for second

by Helen Burk

West Guilford came up on top on Monday night at home over the Minden Homestead team. Clutch hitting by Karen and Bev for West Guilford and some costly errors by Minden helped them to win. Nancy Brink was the winning pitcher while Anne Hewson took the loss. Final score was 11-7.

Monday night also saw an excellent game between Carnarvon and Haliburton. Haliburton came up with a 10-7 win with the help of Wendy Roberts' and Sheila Elston's bat. Nancy Maughan was the winning pitcher while Belinda Broven took the loss.

Tuesday night Minden was still hurting from the night before loss to the same West Guilford team. At the end of five innings, Minden had a 7-6 lead. Then, in the bottom of the sixth, Minden erupted with 11 runs led by Lyn Winans, Helen Burk and Patty Lou Vasey with some clutch hitting. Patty Lou Vasey was the winning pitcher while Nancy Brink took the loss.

Wednesday night Snowdon played the best game of the season. After giving up nine runs in the second inning, the team settled down and came back only to be beaten 12-10. Wilberforce was led by Shelly Welsh and Arlene Mathews at the plate while Cathy Gartshore and Colleen Bacon had a good night for Snowdon. Colleen Bacon hit a home run for Snowdon. Audrey Vick took the loss while Shelley Welsh picked up the victory. These two teams played back in Lochlin Thursday night and it was a close game until the sixth inning when Wilberforce got 13 runs to defeat Snowdon 37-22. Audrey Vick took the loss while Judy Faul picked up the win. Shelly Welsh had three home runs while Cheryl Feller had one for Wilberforce.

Haliburton's unbeaten streak ended after eight victories in Carnarvon Thursday night. Carnarvon went ahead early in the game and held on to a 13-12 win. Marg Darby pitched a real good game to deserve the victory while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

If any of you people have not been out to see any of these games you are missing some good games and a few laughs. Get out and support your team.

Norah Good wins seven Games firsts, selected top blind athlete in class

Editor's Note: Sunday, June 24, Haliburton's Norah Good competed in the Eastern Ontario Games for the physically disabled in Ottawa. Norah, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Good of Haliburton, won seven first in swimming and track and field events, and was selected the top blind athlete of the games.

The following is excerpted from an article that appeared in the Ottawa Citizen June 25. It was written by John Valenzi, Citizen staff writer.

Darkness closes in faster for Norah Good than for others.

She finds herself able to distinguish only large, bright shapes. She sometimes has to reach gently for a familiar railing or wall or piece of furniture.

The 22-year-old cafeteria worker has been almost blind since birth, but she skis, water-skis, swims, skidoos and runs. She is also one of the best blind athletes in the country and almost a sure bet to represent Canada in future Olympics for the disabled.

Sunday, Good was selected the top blind performer as handicapped athletes competed in track and field, swimming, table tennis, billiards and weightlifting in the Eastern Ontario Wheelchair Games held at Mooney's Bay, Brewer Park and Carleton University.

"I've had only 10 percent vision since birth but I can get around," she said. "I can see big things but people and other shapes are blurs."

She saw well enough on the weekend to win seven firsts in swimming and track and field - the best individual performance of the three-day games.

"If you keep feeling sorry for yourself because of your handicap you'll get nowhere," she said. "To compete you've got to convince yourself you're good enough, then train hard."

Good trains six days a week

- four days of running and two days swimming. She drives herself hard because she wants to go farther in competition. "I've compete in two Ontario Games and Canada Games in Edmonton and St. John's and I hope to make it to the World Games for Class C athletes next year."

Classes A, B and C are used to separate blind athletes according to their perception. Class A means an athlete is totally blind, B, up to 5 percent blind and C up to 10 percent.

Other blind athletes who distinguished themselves were Jacques Pilon, 21, of Ottawa, who was outstanding male athlete, and 18-year-old Gerry Leroux, of Cornwall, a winner of four in swimming and track.

Haliburton's Faye Schonhoffer covers up at third base while another Haliburton player takes the throw too late to tag a sliding Minden runner Monday night. Some excellent games have been played in the ladies league in recent weeks, providing good entertainment for fans who turn out.

Cost of project expected to be close to budget

Pioneer Museum opens doors, fund-raising campaign to start

A fund raising campaign will get underway this week to raise a portion of the public sector cost of the new Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum. The building, which opened its doors to the public for the first time over the weekend, is located at the entrance to Glebe Park just east of Haliburton Village.

Total cost of the project, which has been underway since early last year, was estimated at $210,000, and building committee chairman Gerry Dawson said this week the project is expected to be completed very close to budget.

Included in the project cost are the two storey museum complex, designed by the late Napier Simpson, the moving and restoration of the Reed house, original location of the museum, and landscaping of the grounds around both buildings.

Wintario grants will meet half the total project cost, and the Municipality of Dysart et al has committed $52,500 toward the balance. Some $16,000 has already been raised from the private sector, and the Rotary Club of Haliburton has committed a further $16,000. The fund raising campaign that gets underway this week will be seeking the final $23,000 to $25,000 needed to retire the debt for the project.

"We're very hopeful that we'll get the total amount this year," the building committee chairman said this week.

Letters outlining the need for contributions to the project are expected to be sent out along with interim municipal tax bills within the next few weeks, and the committee also plans to provide a box to receive donations in the museum building.

A number of displays have been set up in the building for the summer months pending completion of permanent display cases by local craftsman Derek Smith. Moveable wall display panels will also be used to provide display aisles for the new building.

"We hope to alter the displays three times a year, perhaps with a view to creating some sort of emphasis on the season," Dawson said.

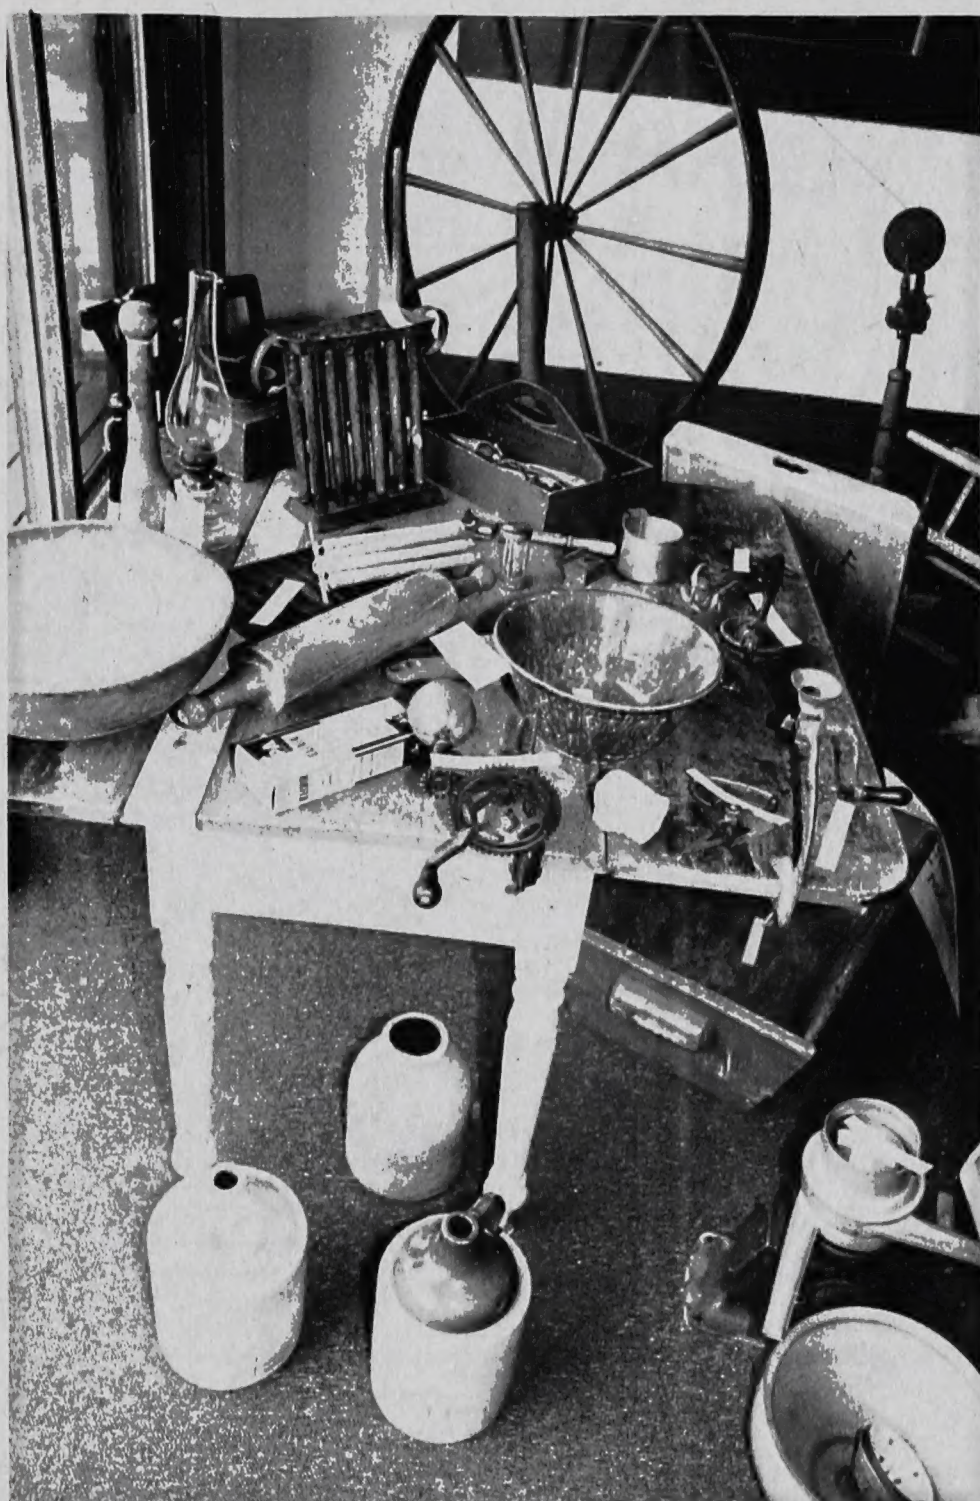

The building will be open from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week until September, and will then be open on weekends until Thanksgiving. Community groups are expected to make use of the museum's meeting facilities in the winter months, and special tours will also be arranged for schools groups interested in local history.

The Reed house will be restored and furnished with period pieces to reflect the county's past. Restoration work on the house is expected to be completed by the end of July or early August.

The new museum building features a large display area on the upper floor and meeting and storage areas on the ground floor. Now complete, the building stands at the entrance to Glebe Park just west of Haliburton Village. The Reed house, original site of the museum, has been moved to the Glebe Park site, and now stands to the left of the new building. The house will be restored and furnished with late nineteenth century pieces.

The Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum opened the doors of its new facilities for the first time over the weekend. Though display cases for the new building are not yet completed, many of the items in the museum's collection have been arranged for display throughout the summer. A fund raising campaign gets underway this week to raise the approximately $23,000 needed to complete private sector funding of the project.

OPP Report

Dave Sands, director of a Haliburton summer camp for medically handicapped children, is an optimist

Medical problems take second spot at Illahee

A councillor from Camp Illahee briefs some impatient swimmers before they enter the water. Most of the 24 staff members at the camp have been with Illahee for a number of years, even while the camp was located in Cobourg. Though the councillors are not specially trained to work with physically handicapped children, they are given briefings about the condition of each child a week before the campers arrive.

On first glimpse, it looks like any other summer camp. Dozens of cabins cluster close to a recreation hall and dining room. Across the gatepost at the entrance a large banner is strung that shouts "Welcome" to the arriving campers in multi-coloured letters.

A truck is unloading supplies for the kitchen on this, the first day of camp. The sounds of dozens of voices singing drift from the recreation hall and mingle with the muted plinking of a banjo. Inside, youngsters are sitting around tables, pounding happily on the wood to the beat of the music.

Watching them smile as song follows song, it is hard to imagine that this is Camp Illahee, and that these children, so full of life and energy, are in fact medically handicapped in a variety of ways.

Story and photographs by Len Pizzev and Joe Banks

The last song ended, the children rush excitedly outside, and the man with the banjo is alone with a small boy who whispers some special secret, then bounces out. Dave Sands, who, more than anyone else, is responsible for the mood of Camp Illahee, and for its unique accomplishments, lifts the banjo from his neck and sits down for a moment's rest. The camp's director, Sands has been in the business of recreational therapy for close to 30 years. He's become a veteran of the intricacies of recreation treatment for medically handicapped children. An unabashed optimist, Sands believes a handicapped child must be seen as a child first, and as a person with a medical problem second. That view is at the heart of his philosophy, and it's a philosophy he puts to work in the daily operations of Camp Illahee.

The afternoon line-up at Illahee's medical clinic

Previously located in Cobourg, the camp purchased the former Drag Lake Lodge last year, and months were spent refurbishing the facilities to meet the needs of Illahee's special kind of campers. The camp is operated by the Family Services Association of Metropolitan Toronto, which in turn receives funding from the United Way, though a percentage of its costs are met through camp fees.

Since 1946, Illahee has been catering to children with health problems that include controlled epilepsy, diabetes, haemophilia, cardiac and kidney conditions, asthma, allergies and learning disabilities. It is a unique concept - Illahee is the only camp of its kind in North America.

Few people could be better suited than Dave Sands to make a camp like Illahee work. A diabetic, he spent a week at Illahee as an eight year old, and he has been a part of it ever since. An active member of nearly every handicapped association in Ontario, and a former recreational therapist at the Hospital for Sick Children, Sands' knowledge of handicapped children is matched only by his compassion for them.

Gazing for a moment out of the row of picture windows in the camp's cafeteria that overlook scenic Drag Lake, Sands leans back in his chair and clasps his hands behind his crew-cut head. His eyes radiate an enthusiasm and an energy that are the tools of his work. And of that work, Dave Sands loves to speak.

"I've got a different philosophy - my interests lay in recreation for a medical problem that can't be seen," he says, his arms opening in a gesture of understanding. "A diabetic's problem can't be seen, nor an asthmatic's nor a neuro-convulsive's, yet they're expected to live a normal life like everyone else."

One of the main aims of the camp, says Sands, is to educate the children who attend about their own conditions, and in so doing, give them a chance both to realize their limitations and to overcome them as much as possible. The program is co-educational and each activity is designed to allow a child to participate to the limit of his or her physical ability and exercise tolerance. A number of the programs that will be implemented this summer are essentially tests. They will be studied and rated to help in lining up future programs in the new environment of the Highlands. A haemophilic, for example, may be observed sailing a boat to see how he or she reacts to the activity and information from the "experiment" can be helpful when developing the activity further to suit the needs of the child. But the youngsters are not, stresses Sands, "Experimented on like guinea pigs."

Kids come first at Illahee

Indeed, the children at Camp Illahee are under constant care by experienced medical staff but that care is as unobtrusive as possible. The idea is to ensure the safety and health of the children, but to do so without making it seem that "someone is looking over their shoulder," says Sands. He is clearly proud of the clinic facilities at Illahee and of the staff. He chuckles as he names off the list of equipment crammed into the small medical building.

"We probably have more equipment here than the Haliburton hospital," he says, all of it equipment designed to treat special problems. Resuscitators, vitilators, dry-ice making machines, a dialysis machine, and various other pieces of medical machinery are housed in the clinic, along with an extensive arsenal of drugs, all of which are made available by the Canadian Red Cross. The Sick Children's foundation, the Atkinson foundation, and many individuals, both public and private, have also donated money to keep the camp and its equipment functional.

Other monies come from the fees themselves, which vary according to a family's income and size. Children from outside of Toronto are requested to pay the full fee, and service club's often sponsor a child's stay in camp. But no child, says Sands, is ever rejected simply because his parents cannot pay.

Along with medical supervision, the children are also supervised by councillors trained in leadership. Each is briefed prior to the camper's arrivals on the types of conditions to expect. Meals are planned by a qualified dietician so the special needs of some of the campers can be met. But most important to the camp's success is the medical staff, consisting of a doctor and two nurses in residence 24 hours a day. Four doctors, all of whom are associated with the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, will spend time at Illahee, one at a time, over the summer months.

'Over the past five to ten years, we've treated the kids as people, and that meant we could do more things with them'

For all the medical precautions, and the presence of special equipment, however, Camp Illahee looks and runs like any other camp in Haliburton County and features the same activities. With pride, Dave Sands says Illahee has reversed the pattern in which a camp may allow some handicapped children in; at Camp Illahee, some normal children, teenagers at that, are allowed to attend and mingle with the other children. It's the first year the "reverse integration" scheme has been tried, and Sands hopes it will prove to be successful. As well, this year, for the first time in the camp's history, handicapped teenagers will be attending camp along with the 8 to 12 year-olds.

"Over the past five to ten years, we've treated the kids as people, and that meant we could do more and more things with them. We can give the teens a more challenging world in the north."

This factor, among others, is what resulted in Camp Illahee's move to Haliburton County. After a search for the perfect location that lasted five years, Sands fondly says he "fell in love" with the Drag Lake Resort.

All the time was worth it, says Sands, reflecting on the decision to move the camp to Haliburton. As he puts it, with 140 children registered and ready for summer camp, the time came to grow out, and with the first campers having arrived last week, the growth doesn't seem to have affected the camp's functioning. From Cobourg, the camp has carried its equipment, most of the staff, and all of the spirit with it. In air that is free of pollen, the bane of asthmatics, Dave Sands will organize, run and participate in a project that makes handicapped children happy. And that is what Dave Sands and Camp Illahee are all about.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

We are a little disappointed in the showing the sweet peas have, even with an extra planting. Those that are up seem to be healthy and free from the various pests. We can only hope that as we near the autumn the story will be different. We spent Monday morning providing a string trellis for them. Some of the roses have come into flower, one a very deep red. These are still the ones we got a couple of years ago, one of which is of a magnificent size and vigour. All of our plants are in the ground for better or for worse, and as a preliminary conclusion are delightful.

A short time ago we made comment on this Arab embassy hassle that was perhaps ill considered. The Right Honourable Joseph Clark has surely added a star to his mantle of power when he adopts the words of Solomon in Proverbs 15, V.1: "A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger." Since Solomon is revered equally in the Koran as in our Bible, Mr. Clark put things on an equal footing in his talks with the Arabs leading to a feeling of good will all around. This is very interesting.

Monday afternoon brought us two movies. 1. 'Imperial Sunset' showed the transition of the British Empire to the Commonwealth of Nations, from gunboat diplomacy to desperate bargaining while world crime in the fringes looks on. The big prize in the Commonwealth is the English language. 2. Birds like ostriches that never fly that inhabit Australia and New Zealand showing the various species of huge birds as they are called, native to those regions. It is the odd show like this that informs us on realities that we did not formerly realize existed.

We were just one big family again at Tuesday's bingo, the usual helpers except Mrs. Velma Springer who could not come. The prizes were somewhat of a novelty with beads and trinkets, and candy besides the usual fruits.

Every last one of our outdoor plants are committed to the soil for the summer bloom. There were more than we planned for, filling all the flower beds we have and the new bed under the Extendicare sign. We think we have everything pretty nice now but with plenty more bloom to come.

Everything was set Wednesday morning to go for a lawn picnic at George Tipton's at West Guilford, but the rain came and it was cancelled to be taken on Thursday. His floral display is said to be gorgeous and we want to see it.

An item that has been chasing around in our minds are these lush green Ontario Hydro right-of-ways. It would seem that in the supervision of the Ministry of Agriculture, the strips could be parcelled out to lease holders for the purpose of raising sheep, or goats, or beef, or the winter fodder for them. Security fence could be used to fence in the critters and by the same token keep out the predators. This at once would eliminate the need to use defollients, and if seeded with white clover, would gradually upgrade the soil. This scheme would help relieve unemployment, and might even, with the guidance of the Ministry of the Attorney General, provide a means of converting these motorcycle gangs into useful pursuits, and by providing clover bee pasture would be a boon to bee keeping. Live bear traps could be located along the fence, helping to provide Metro Zoo with the needed wild bears. No part of this scheme would be power hungry. It would involve considerable capital costs but in 10 years would be solvent, with a nice inventory.

Thursday Mrs. Pat Burk bussed us to the abode of George and Edna Tipton at West Guilford for a most delightful outing. Mr. Tipton must spend all of his time studying and working so that by the use of plants and flowers, has an amazingly beautiful display, surpassing ours very much. We took our own lunch, but our hosts topped it off by providing us with a dessert of freshly picked strawberries and ice cream home-made, all we could eat among 30 of us who went. That still not being enough, we were presented on leaving with a copious hanging pot of bamboo fern in which were twined creeping petunias, all crowned with a very nice spider plant. This called for an extra outside hook at Extendicare to hang it on and show its beauty. We find it difficult to thank them enough.

The spiritual leader for our devotion period Friday morning was Rev. Don Nicholson of the Haliburton United Church, and our Mrs. Flossie Burk, pianist. The theme was the story of Shadrach, Meshack, and Abednego in the fiery furnace and how, with God's help, they escaped injury. This is an ultra power story, a story to beat all stories, to convince Nebuchadnezzar, that these three Jewish boys could not be persuaded to forsake their God. We are Nebuchadnezzar if we antisemitic. The after service snack of tea or coffee and cookies served by Mrs. Pat Burk made the whole meeting with Rev. Nicholson quite enjoyable.

The afternoon movies reviewed conditions at the bird sanctuary on the island east of Newfoundland, where the gulls by their dominance are succeeding in eliminating the puffins. It is a strange tale and presents no solution.

The Happy Gang owes a debt of gratitude to Steve Walling of Woodville, who donated four flats of strawberries to our enjoyment. Just think of Steve as you eat of this kind gift. Thanks Steve.

The role of nurse's aides in nursing homes is far from enviable, but has become a very important cog in the scheme of things in our present society. Our group at Extendicare have been working hard to get the certificates of excellence. This group have passed the qualifying examination and in the evening were presented with their cherished certificates and a banquet in the auditorium of the Haliburton Legion Hall, Ms. Sheila Elston, R.N. presiding - Mrs. Marilyn Anderson, Miss Diane Dainard, Miss Ivy Francis, Mrs. Lorna Hogg, Mrs. Susan Swinson, Mrs. Dolores Hall, Mrs. Betty Milburn, Mrs. Darlene Porter, Miss Ann Wise, Miss Melissa Caines, Mrs. Sandra Johnston, and Mrs. Joyce Shaw. Their instructor in this course was Mrs. Shirley Rydman, R.N. The Happy Gang offer our congratulations to these industrious ladies.

Saturday morning we found that our first poppy had popped and already a goodly number of our snap dragons have snapped.

Parent classes held

Recently a series of "Parenting Classes" was held in a small rural community within the county, sponsored by the nursing staff of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit.

"Parenting Classes" have been recommended lately by Community & Social Services, Children's Aid, the Ministry of Health, and the Federation of Women Teachers Association of Ontario, with the purpose of assisting parents in handling the responsibilities they have in guiding children. The common areas that frequently cause frustration on the part of the parents are communication, discipline, self-esteem, and nutrition.

General discussion following a presentation of known facts, and special films, form the basis for the parenting classes.

Although the attendance was disappointing for the first series, Health Unit nurses say the people who attended were enthusiastic and appeared to gain information which will be helpful in their role as parents.

"Parenting Classes" will eventually be brought to different areas within the county, and notice of their location will be published.

We began the week at Hyland Crest with fun and fitness first thing on Monday morning. We had a real good number attend and had an exciting game of kick the ball. There were also some very good scores when we played darts. We exercised to music and everyone enjoyed taking part. In the afternoon, several ladies went to the craft room to work on their various items for the bazaar on July 18.

At this point I would like to mention that we have one resident, namely Mrs. Deumo, who does a particularly good job making wall plaques using seeds. We have trouble getting enough seeds, and we would appreciate it very much if our readers could save some and donate them. The kinds we need are watermelon, citron, apple and cantalope. This is the time of the year when these fruits are in season, and we'd like to get enough seeds ahead, as these beautiful owl plaques are very much in demand.

Monday evening, the movies were shown in the auditorium. "Picture Canada" gave us a look at this beautiful land of ours. It showed different buildings such as old log cabins, churches and hotels. Also our many industries and produce from the rich soil. Since Canada is very much involved in sports, this film showed a great many games such as hockey, curling, snow-shoeing and snowmobiling in the winter and canoe races, sailing, water skiing and baseball in the summer. These are just a few of the many activities that go on in our great vast country. A look at western Canada, the fall wheat harvesting and the Calgary Stampede was particularly interesting.

"When Summer Dies" was filmed in Newfoundland. It was filmed for Remembrance Day, and the many great men who died for our freedom. I wonder, do our young people of today really know and understand what Remembrance Day is all about? Both these movies were very good and were thoroughly enjoyed by those who watched them.

Tuesday morning everyone made their way to the chapel to worship with Pastor Brubacher of the Gospel Church in Minden.

After lunch, Doris Robertson called the numbers and several residents played a relaxing game of bingo in the main lounge.

Wednesday we started with our regular fun and fitness program with, again, a good number of residents attending.

The afternoon was enjoyed by the ladies working busily in the craft room. The gentlemen played a game of carrom with Mr. Lloyd Coleman helping out. After the game, the men joined the ladies for tea and goodies.

Thursday afternoon was a special time when several residents were honoured at the birthday tea party. Those celebrating birthdays this month were Isabella Shay, Eleanor Law, Ethel Boice, Ada Lewis, Agnes Lansfield and Robert Kernohan. These people were presented with corsages made up of daisies and mums. In the evening the Kinsmen came over to call our bingo numbers. Many thanks to these fellows for taking time out for us. Please have a nice summer and we will be looking forward to seeing you again in the fall.

Friday afternoon we held our sing song in the main lounge with Grace Coburn leading the singing and accompanied by Fred Ballard. This brought our week to a close with a happy note.

Theatre Aquarius, Hamilton's Professional Company, presented their bright and lively adaptation of "Alice in Wonderland" on Sunday evening.

The White Rabbit, some difficult flowers, the Mad Hatter, the Cheshire Cat, Tweedledee and Tweedledum are the inhabitants Alice met as she wandered through Wonderland. This talented group, each person donning several changes of bizarre costumes and identity, brought these funny, nonsensical, satirical characters to life in such a way that when Alice was lost and called upon the audience to help everyone responded with enthusiasm and laughter.

What should be remembered about all these summer productions is they are family fare. Entertainment comical enough to make children really laugh aloud spontaneously will always strike adults as equally funny, a fact of which Theatre Aquarius is well aware.

It is hoped that more parents will come along and join in their children's laughter at the puppets - Punchinello on Saturday July 21, and Peppi Puppets on Wednesday August 1. These fast, snappy, funny shows could be the highlights of your family good times this summer.

Come and join the crowds at the opening of our 17th annual Summer Exhibition and Sale on Friday, July 6 at 7:30 p.m. The Guild Choir will be featured and the Jurors will present the awards to the artists and craftspeople winning a course of their choice to the Haliburton School of Fine Arts. A special feature will be "Tracks", a display of specially handcrafted items on a railway theme to commemorate the opening of the "Rail's End Station Gallery". Don't miss this excellent show. ## Recycle it!

by Jane Selbie

Boaters and cottagers will appreciate a few of these suggestions.

(1) An old bleach or vinegar bottle can become a handy anchor when filled with stones and mixed cement. It will take a few days to dry, so leave the cap off for a while. Attach a rope to the handle and fasten to the boat. For larger boats simply increase the number of "anchors".

(2) Save an old wine bottle cork. By inserting the sharp points of the fish hooks into the top of the cork and the shank resting against the length of the cork you will have handy hooks which can be pocketed. If dropped in the water it will float.

(3) Small brightly coloured plastic bottles can be secured with a bit of rope to submerged logs to prevent boat or motor damage at your favourite fishing spot.

With the permission of the Echo, I have suspended payment for May and June. These prizes will be consolidated with July's. That totals $15.00 which will be awarded at the end of July for all submissions received during that interval. It gives you time to jell your thinking, write in and win.

Come on now, let's hear from you. There are no entries on file - you have just as much chance as the next person. Send your ideas to Recycle It!, Haliburton Echo, Box 360, Haliburton, Ontario, K0M 1S0.

Starting July 1, there were some changes made to Unemployment Insurance.

Unless you worked at least 20 weeks in the past year, these changes could apply to you.

In December 1978, Parliament changed the Unemployment Insurance program. Changes starting July 1 mean that some people will have to work longer before they can qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits.

Please remember, these UI changes affect only those claims which start on or after July 1, 1979. And, the changes may or may not apply to you. So please read on to see if you are affected.

(You'll find terms such as "Weeks of Work", "Qualifying Period", "Variable Entrance Requirement" (VER), and "Unemployment Rate" marked by an asterisk (*). For easier understanding, see the box "Explaining UI terms" at the end of this message.)

Here are the details of those changes.

Have you worked 20 weeks or more in your Qualifying Period*?

If so, this message does not apply to you. For you, the number of weeks you need to qualify for regular UI benefits and for UI illness and maternity benefits, or the one-time benefit at age 65 has not changed.

Are you working for the first time?

To get UI benefits, you will usually need 20 Weeks' Work*, no matter where you live. An exception to this would be if you were on a training course approved by the Canada

Employment and Immigration Commission for at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*. Then you would only need 10 to 14 weeks, depending on the Variable Entrance Requirement* where you live.

Are you starting to work again?

If you're coming back to work after being away a year or more, you'll usually need 20 Weeks of Work* in your Qualifying Period* before you can qualify for UI benefits.

This applies wherever you live. This 20-week rule won't apply, however, if you were in any of the following situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*.

These are the situations that count:

1. You were getting temporary worker's disability compensation from a provincial program;
2. You were receiving sick or maternity leave payments;
3. You were out of work because of a labour dispute at your place of work;
4. You were on a Commission-approved training course;
5. You were on UI claim;
6. You were working in insurable employment.

So, for first-time workers and those coming back to work:

A. If you were in any of these six situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*, then you need only 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* in the Qualifying Period*, depending on the VER* where you live.

B. If none of the six situations fit your case, you will have to have worked at least 20 weeks to qualify for UI benefits.

NOTE: If you are returning to work after being away more than one year, the 20-week rule will normally apply to you.

Did you get UI benefits in the last year?

If you got UI benefits in your Qualifying Period*, there are new rules that may apply to you - unless the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent.

1. If a claim you had in the last year has not run out, you may be able to renew it.

2. If yours is classed as a new claim, you will need the usual 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* depending on your local VER*, plus up to six "extra" Weeks of Work*. The number of "extra" weeks you'll need depends on how many weeks you got on your previous UI claim. You need one "extra" week (up to a maximum of six) for every week you got over the VER* needed in your area.

Here's an example: You need 12 Weeks' Work* in your region (your local VER*) to qualify for benefits the first time. On your last claim, you drew 15 weeks' benefits before going back to work. Now, you would need the usual 12 weeks, plus three "extra" work weeks. (That's the difference between the 12 weeks you needed to work and the 15 weeks of benefits you drew. In total you would need 15 Weeks' Work* to qualify again within one year. The most anyone needs anywhere is 20 weeks of work to qualify.

Again, please remember, when the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent, this rule won't apply to you. You'll need only 10 Weeks' Work* to qualify for regular UI benefits.

Other changes have been in effect since January 1979:

- The weekly benefit rate was reduced to 60 per cent of your average insurable earnings (from 66 2/3 per cent).
- Most people employed for less than 20 hours a week are no longer covered by UI.
- Higher-income claimants may have to repay part of UI benefits drawn in the 1979 tax year. This will only affect people whose income, including UI benefits, is over $20,670. This will be explained when you get your 1979 tax return.

These things haven't changed:

- Just as a review, these points haven't changed:
- You may still get UI illness and maternity benefits and the special benefit paid at age 65 if you've worked 20 weeks in your Qualifying Period*.
- There's still a two-week waiting period before UI benefits start.
- To get regular benefits, you must still be available for and looking for work each day you are on claim.
- You must report any work and earnings while on claim.

Explaining UI terms:

*Weeks of Work

This means weeks of work that are insurable for Unemployment Insurance. Most employment of 20 hours or more a week is insurable.

*Qualifying Period

What UI calls your Qualifying Period is the 52 weeks before we start your claim. Or if you had a claim in the last year, it's the time since that claim started.

*Variable Entrance Requirement (VER)

To qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits, you must have worked from 10 to 14 weeks in insurable employment during your Qualifying Period*. The exact number of weeks depends on the Unemployment Rate* in the economic region where you live. (See below.) If you don't have enough weeks to qualify when you file your claim, we keep your application in the computer file. If the Unemployment Rate* changes so you then have the weeks you need, we will send you a notice.

*Unemployment Rate

For Unemployment Insurance, the Unemployment Rate used for each of the 48 economic regions of Canada is not the current monthly Statistics Canada unemployment rate in each region. It is a three-month average of seasonally-adjusted monthly unemployment rates.

The interest was keen but there were not as many entries as had been anticipated in the Norland Horticultural Society's second flower show held in the community hall on Saturday, June 23. In the iris cut flower classes, the winners were Mrs. Mary Pyke, Mrs. Barbara Maunders and Mrs. Thelma Saunders. Mrs. Hilda Buxey placed first in the pansy class while Mr. Cecil Cove had the winning delphinium flower. Mrs. Pyke and Mrs. Jean Stewart took the winning ribbons in the lilies class and prizes were won by Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Sharon Greer, Mrs. Stewart and Cecil Cove in the various peony groupings. Mrs. Eleanor Crane's lupines won a first prize as did Cecil Cove's 5 stems of sweet William flowers and Mrs. Joyce Bartley's placed second in the house plant classes. Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Dorothy Brown won a first and second prize respectively for their African violets and Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Stewart were winners in the potted geranium category. Dorothy Brown's pot of coleus was another winner as were Jean Stewart's and Hilda Buxey's cactus plants. Mrs. Rotha Bryant was a first prize winner in the "Salute to Norland" table arrangement, Mrs. Carol Emmerson's bouquet in a cup and saucer won another first prize as did her "Lullaby" floral grouping. Rose arrangement winner was Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Crane won the "Cool Water" arrangement using flowers, rocks and water. "Memories" in an antique container with flowers or any natural material was won by Barbara Maunders. Very special thanks to Rotha Bryant for the time and effort that she put into organizing the flower show and to all who entered flowers, plants and arrangements for the show. Thanks too, to Les Thomas who judged the entries and to everyone who helped in any way with the afternoon tea and/or attended the exhibit.

Each Saturday morning from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. in the Norland Public Library, Dale Davey has a special story and craft time for all interested children who are four years and older. If you are interested in history you will want to visit the Archaeology Museumobile that will be in Norland on Thursday, July 12, parked beside The Women's Institute Hall and open for viewing from 3:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. This museumobile will tell the story of man in Ontario from the time of his first arrival about 12,000 years ago, up to the fur-trade period, an 18-minute film will be shown several times in the W.I. Hall in conjunction with this interesting and informative exhibit. Since the museumobile has a capacity of only 15 persons, visits will have to be spaced to accommodate everyone. For further information, pamphlets and literature are available in the library or contact librarian Mrs. Betty Davey. Two of these museumobiles are currently touring the province - one telling about the fossils of Ontario and the other man in Ontario. We are indeed fortunate to have the chance to view this museumobile so plan to visit it while it is here.

Another date to remember is Tuesday, July 24, when the rabies clinic will be held in the hall at Head Lake from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. It is open to all animal owners in this municipality and it is important that your dog or cat has an annual rabies shot, so do take advantage of this free clinic.

At their meeting on Thursday, June 21, the Coboconk Lions Club installed their new executive for 1979-80. The newly elected officer are, president - Ted Garrels, first vice-president - Ed Holland, second vice-president - Everett Cameron, secretary-treasurer - Miki Ferency, lion tamer - Thane Yeo and lion tamer - Earl Sutherland.

The June Mutual Aid meeting was held in Bobcaygeon on Tuesday, June 26 and several of our local firemen were in attendance. After the business meeting in the Bobcaygeon fire hall, the men drove to nearby Lakewood Manufacturing Ltd. plant where the various sizes of Lakewood stoves were displayed. The president, Mr. Clyde Logue outlined the basic information required to make a safe and proper stove installation and discussed the correct procedures of operating a wood burning stove. In this time of energy conservation, this meeting proved to be most interesting and worthwhile.

Our best wishes are extended to Roy and Rotha Bryant on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Their family is palning a celebration for them at the Coboconk Community Lions Hall on Saturday, July 7 and an invitation is extended to all of their friends and relatives to attend the open house beginning at 7:30 p.m. followed by dancing at 9:00 p.m.

Stan Davey has just returned after spending several days visiting his cousin and her husband and Elmer Schulz and family in Calgary, Alberta.

Some dates to remember: Starting Monday, July 2, Bingo in community hall each Monday at 8:00 p.m. July 7 - fifth annual Norland Firefighters Association horse draw at Ward Memorial Park - 1:00 p.m. Each Tuesday, Saturday from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop is open. Saturday, July 14 - Norland Athletic Club dance in community hall from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. featuring Rick Hughes Badban Group. Bar will be licensed by L.L.B.O. and tickets are $4.00 each. Thursday, July 12 - Official Board of Coboconk Charge of the United Church will meet at Baddow Church, 8:00 p.m.

One evening last week, driving along highway 648 east, we were pleasantly surprised to see a beautiful deer grazing on a knoll along side of the road. She was in very good condition and red as could be. We stopped and watched her for about four minutes. Of course I didn't even have my camera.

Visitors with Mr. George Billings one evening last week were Mr. and Mrs. Hank Madill of Oshawa.

Misses Gerrie Lee and Judy Agnew of Vancouver, B.C. are staying with their grandma, Mrs. Bertie McCrea. They are also visiting family and friends in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Walsh were at their cottage for a few days recently. That's a nice new truck Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ball are driving. Congratulations! Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carey are well on their way with their new house in town. We understand they are going to be here most of the time. Nice to have you folks back.

Mr. Chas. Billings is enjoying a week of camping at Elim Lodge of Pidgeon Lake with her daughter Helen of St. Catharines and Sandra and Susan.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. John Uptergrove of Niagara-on-the-lake, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carey are occupying the Anderson Sr. home until completion of their new home.

This being the holiday weekend we have a lot of our tourist friends with us; also a lot of tourist friends are on vacation. I have noticed West Virginia licence plates and other parts of the southern U.S.A. One wonders how many problems they had with gas, if any, on their journey here.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brooking are visiting with Mrs. V. Brooking for a few days.

Mr. Ross Limerick of Fencelon Falls along with the Nichols family of Trenton spent the holiday weekend at "The Uncle Tom Cabin" in Hadlington.

We had an interesting chat with Mr. Thomas of Virginia, U.S.A. now at his cottage in Hadlington for the summer. He has been having a visit quite often by a black bear. It seems Mr. Bear stands up against the screen door and as it bangs he leaps backward very puzzled at this banging object in front of him. So far he has done no harm, only a curious bear.

Visitors at their hunting camp over the weekend were Larry Hewitt, Kevin Billings and friends of Peterborough.

Mr. Norman Forbes of Rosemeath was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stamp over the weekend.

Mrs. Harry Finlay took her aunt and uncle, Vi and Bill Vince from Keynsham, England, to Ottawa, Peterborough, C.N. Tower, Ontario Place, Niagara-on-the-lake, Niagara Falls and Ayr, then Margaret travelled on to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ria Hart at Exeter, Ontario.

Dave Willis, owner of the Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden, completed expansion and renovations of his popular establishment recently. A new outdoor beer garden where beer and food will be available is seen in the picture, and a new dining room has also been added that will seat 99 people. Mr. Willis said the hotel will continue with the present bluegrass and middle-of-the-road entertainment, and said of the expansions, "hopefully we can now accommodate the enormous number of people we're getting in."

Hi folks! Here we are, a nice beginning again after a bad weekend of storms.

Don't forget this Sunday, July 8 at 2 p.m. is Memorial Day in Kinmount. We all hope for nice weather and a good crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crego and their two little girls visited with their daughter Bonnie at Oakwood for the weekend.

The John Barkwell's moved into their new home on the weekend.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Albert Crego and Vi Willard who were married in St. James Anglican Church at 7:30 on Friday evening.

Family and friends gathered at their home later and spent a very enjoyable evening with the young couple.

There were three dances Saturday night. The Legion had a very good crowd after the rain. Galway Hall was packed for a good time, and the Davis Lake Ski Club had a full house at the community hall.

Earl Askey won the $22.00 50-50 draw at Branch 441.

Mr. Bob Cooper of Sutton spent a few days last week at Tom Bacon's and painted the ceilings in Tom's house while he was there.

Tom doesn't lose all the time but I heard he lost in darts at the Legion again on Saturday to Lil Washington and Frazer McKim.

Mr. Al Jopling is driving bus for the camp in Galway this season.

Mrs. Helen Byne left on Sunday for a vacation in England. She is travelling with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Byne.

Mr. Jim Burns was buried in Peterborough on July 2. He was well-known in this area as he was a brother of the late Mrs. Anne Pearson.

I hear we are having a new "bake shop" in town. Miss Lorrie Scott will be baking at Scott's store on main street.

Mrs. Grace Simmons of Irondale is getting along fine after her bout in the hospital.

Mr. Albert Stata is home from hospital and doing fine.

Mr. Ralph Byrne is on the sick list at home.

Mrs. Chris Harper has been in Minden Red Cross Hospital. Hope you are soon able to be home again Chris.

Jim and Marg Hockley have their little granddaughter staying with them as their daughter is in hospital.

That's all for this week. Please drive carefully. The roads are so busy and we seem to lose some of our own every long weekend.

Something new and interesting is coming up for our young people. A new club is being formed that will focus on a number of activities such as films, crafts, table tennis and a general get-together for fun time. All this will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rutter and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Binskin. Every Monday night at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre the group will be meeting.

The idea behind the club is to provide a place for people to get together and find something interesting to do. There will be no charge to join. Money will have to be raised to provide sports equipment, etc. This looks like a project worth a contribution.

The Senior Citizen Club is a popular place these days. There are so many things going on that there is never a dull moment. It must take a lot of organizing to plan all the activities. Square dancing continues to be a favourite exercise. Recently some Monmouth square dancers performed at Bancroft. Other pastimes are card games, carpet bowling, shuffleboard and darts. The welcome mat is out for any seniors who happen to be vacationing in the area during the summer months. Some of these are already members of the club.

Country Good Times is just around the corner. July 20, 21 and 22 are the three big days. It is not too soon to start thinking about the amateur contest. Join the talent show, all entries welcome. We have always had excellent parades. Let's make this one better than ever. Plan now to enter a float. You may win one of the many prizes.

The Girl Guides and the Brownies along with their leaders and some parents, went by bus to Toronto for a long-planned outing. They visited the CN Tower, then went by ferry to Centre Island. At home in Wilberforce the sun shone all day but in Toronto, clouds formed and rain poured down. There was even a thunderstorm which sent everyone scurrying for shelter under a tree until someone thought about this as a dangerous spot to be, so they took shelter elsewhere until there was some let-up in the raindrops. It is impossible to suppress the joy in children and so everyone managed to still have a good time at the amusement park in Centre Village, especially the haunted house. Then it was back home again with a stop over in Lindsay for supper. It was a good time in spite of the poor weather.

Visitors with Mrs. Shirley Adams and Barbara last Wednesday were Mrs. Hazel Irvine and Kathy and Debbie of Minden.

Miss Barbara Adams visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irvine and family of Minden for the latter part of last week.

Raymond and Kevin Barry visited in Severn Bridge over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman

Griffin and family of Lindsay, are spending the week at their cottage here.

We treat you royally? It's pretty bad when a local tourist operator has to charge 10 cents extra for a 1.5 litre bottle of pop just to keep it cold. That makes me mad, how about you?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlin and Jeff and Marilyn of Lindsay visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Adams on the weekend.

Miss Andrea Barry of West Hill, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barry for a few days.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

This is one time the almanac has let us down. It called for fair weather starting on the first, but we have yet to see it, so I guess from now on I will rely on my little weather owl; he changes colour when it is not sunny.

I sure hope the weather is nice for all our summer friends who are on holidays now.

The first summer holiday is over, but not without taking its toll in the area.

Clara Coulter has been visiting with Maud Coulter, and on the weekend, both went back to Peterborough where Maud will be visiting for this week.

The Minden Minor Hockey reported having a very good book and bake sale on last Saturday. The car wash didn't do as well because of the wet weather, but each time the sun came out, there were cars to wash. They tell me that on the long weekend in August there will be a tag day and a rummage sale; then on Labour Day they will have another bake and book sale; so even if it is roller skating weather, rather than hockey, the executive for hockey are not idle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brooker of Petrolia, Ontario, spent the long weekend with the Bill Carrells. Bob had been at a special police meeting in Peterborough because he is Chief of Police in Petrolia. Over 20 years ago my uncle George Fowler was the chief in the same town; it is a small world, isn't it?

Brian and Sue Sisson are away on a holiday this week as Brian had time off from the course he is taking.

The Schell reunion was held at Burnt River on the weekend and all reported a wonderful time. The Bill Schells and girls of Huntsville, and Anne Schell from Kapuskasing were there, and visited friends in the area, but stayed at Dick Schells for the whole weekend.

The camps in the county have all the young folk in now, but last week before they arrived, Kilcoo Camp hosted a staff evening for the other camps and did they have fun. They had dinner, casino, jokes, presentations and a dance. There were eight or more camps represented and I'll bet that the girls camps was the most popular.

Right now just be glad you're not getting all the government you're paying for.

I saw Richard Parisotto on Saturday and he said they were on their way back to Ajax. Guess what? Richard is sporting one of those heavy moustaches.

The Doug McGees took advantage of the holiday weekend and spent it in Belleville.

I was talking to Cora Hewitt the other day and she told me that Lewis and the family, except for one will be going to Australia for two years. That is what I call seeing the world and I do hope Cora will be able to visit them there.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hughes and daughters of Mississauga spent the holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes.

What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to people. It costs you nothing to smile at a stranger on the street and it makes them feel they are welcome in your town.

Brian Roberts of Brooklyn has been visiting with the Bill Carrell family.

Bud and Gala Stamp celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary the last day of June, and those with them for the celebration were: Fern and David Bresner of Kapuskasing; Paul Chouinard and Peggy Bresner of Kitchener; Glenn and Glenda Stamp of Oshawa.

Dorothy McCallum and Margery Dawkins of Lindsay spent a few days with Mrs. Ethel Harrison last week.

The bird family held a get-together at East Lake and the Arvine Bird farm on the weekend. People were present from St. Catharines, Toronto and the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hurta spent the weekend in Toronto with their son and friends.

Keep the following dates in mind: Free puppet show at municipal building on July 16; Foyal Ontario fossil museum at municipal parking lot July 19; County Fair Beef Barbeque and Dance July 7; United Church dinner July 18. I think that is all until next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins of Rexdale visited with Mrs. Ben Harrison over the weekend.

I do wish people who are turning corners or streets would use the signal lights on their cars; it is so provoking to stand waiting until a car goes by, only to find they are turning a corner, and if the light had been on, you could have crossed the street. Use those signals; that is why you have them.

Adios and take care now.

Since your correspondent has been away for a week there is not much news to relate.

When our great granddaughter was christened at St. John's Anglican Church in Toronto, we were surprised to find that the pastor was Rev. O'Neil who, at one time, was at St. George's Church in Haliburton.

Congratulations to Allan Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper, who has received an award from the Leonard Foundation. Allan will go to McMaster this fall. His brother George will be in his fourth year there.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Harrison and children of Richmond Hill, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harrison one day last week.

This week will see the arrival of cottagers and those that are coming for the long weekend.

The Boskung Tourist Association will meet in the C.E. building this week for their annual get-together.

Mrs. Sinclair Russell has returned home, after looking after the two younger Gasky children while Jennifer and her mother flew to Rome to pay a visit to her brother Neil and Elsa. Neil is the Military Attache to the Embassy.

Committee member's resignation accepted

At its most recent meeting, Galway Cavendish council dealt with the following matters:

V.J. Allen's resignation from the Recreation Committee was accepted with regret. Mr. Allen's offer to carry out his assigned responsibilities for the Festival '79 function, was also accepted.

A letter of appreciation will be sent to Cliff Walters, Carlaw Avenue, Toronto, for supplying 16,000 flyers and 150 posters for Festival '79 at no cost. Mr. Walters is a resident of Galway & Cavendish.

The sub-committee reports for Festival '79 were presented verbally by all committee chairmen. In general all committees are on schedule with their assigned duties and no significant problem areas were reported.

The committee will purchase 250 Township Crest Label Pins at a cost of $425.00.

The reeve will be provided with sufficient complimentary tickets to cover invitations to dignitaries for Festival '79.

The reeve reviewed the sub-committee's activities with regard to the Culture and Recreation Feasibility Study and the interface with the Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

The questionnaire submitted by the Feasibility Study sub-committee was approved as presented and recommended to council for adoption.

The Feasibility Study sub-committee was given the authority to evaluate the submissions made by four consulting firms in conjunction with the Ministry of Culture & Recreation. Proposals were received from the following firms: Greer Galloway & Associates Ltd. - Peterborough, Ontario; Cambrian Planning Consultants - Muskoka, Ontario; Totten Sims Hubicki Associates Ltd. - Cobourg, Ontario; and Municipal Planning Consultants - Toronto, Ontario. The sub-committee was also authorized to present their recommendations to council on June 16, 1979, as to the firm that they recommend be awarded the contract.

Correspondence was read from the Galway ball team requesting a grant to offset part or all of the cost of the team sweaters. Council decided that 12 Galway-Cavendish T-shirts will be donated to the team.

The road superintendent was authorized to obtain a Pits and Quarries permit from the Ministry of Natural Resources on the Access Road located on Lot 1, Concession 1, Cavendish. The fill acquired will be used for straightening and widening Scotts Road.

The municipality confirmed their support of the proposed upgrading of Access Road over Crown Land, Lots 18 and 19, Concession 11, and Lot 20, Concession 12, Cavendish Township, as defined in Department of Natural Resources' letter of May 15, 1979.

Minutes of the Cultural and Recreation Committee meeting of June 9, 1979 were accepted as read.

The tender for conducting a culture and recreation feasibility study in the Townships of Galway and Cavendish was awarded Cambrian Planning Consultants, Bracebridge, Ontario, at a firm price of $5975.00. The reeve and clerk were authorized to sign the necessary documents associated with this contract and the application to the Ministry of Culture and Recreation for 50 percent funding of the Though little Jessica Wallace is only about a year old, it appears she doesn't mind modelling the new hats the Guild of Fine Arts will be selling beginning July 7th. The sale will be a part of the Guild's summer exhibition, which is also on this weekend, and the Rails' End Station Gallery itself will officially open on July 14th. The hats were made by Mary Ann MacDonald and will cost $4 apiece.

But I began to grow too fond of the teenagers and backed away from these offers. I'm not sorry.

I'm no Mr. Chips. I'm not a great teacher. But I do enjoy teenagers, with their curiosity, their sensitivity, their sense of humour, their developing selves, even their flashes of anger, and always their honesty.

End of term comes, and even the little turkeys in Grade 9 who bedevilled you with their giggling or their yapping or their giddiness all year become lovable because you know they're gone for two months. And you get a nice tie from one shy little girl, and a nice card thrust through your letter-slot by another who has walked eight blocks to do it, and a muttered, "Have a good summer!" from the worst spalpeen in the class, and it all makes some kind of sense.

And at commencement night, you suddenly discover that those lumpy girls in levis and work boots, in jeans and sneakers, are really beautiful young women with bosoms and golden arms and flashing eyes. That those lazy, surly, unkempt louts you tried to pound some English into for ten months are elegant, witty young men, with a shirt and tie on, who have twice the ease and poise and knowledge you had yourself at that age.

And then there's the ego thing. A guy lurches up to you in a bar and insists, eight times, that, "You're a teacher I ever had." I go down town in July to get a paper or buy some milk, get home three hours later.

Old lady sore as a boil. "Where in the world have you been?" Respond, "Ah, all the kids are home from university, and they want to tell me all about themselves, their problems, their love life."

It's a tough life, but it has its points.

success to date, the opposition parties have not yet put a resolution on the order paper for debate, calling on the government to release the results of all polls done from April 1, 1974, to last April 1. That resolution, however, would probably not be debated until the fall session. Polls taken in the year ended April 1 included questions on censorship, gambling, liquor, spending restraints in health and education, and the public's general views on inflation and the economy.

Mr. Robertson, Mr. Radigan and Mr. O'Reilly of Galway Acres Ltd. and Mr. Dick Holbrook, representing the cottagers of Birch Bark Lake, attended the council meeting to receive council's decision on the number of lots they would support with regard to a subdivision that Galway Acres Ltd. intended to put on Birch Bark Lake. Council passed a resolution noting that the Townships of Galway and Cavendish are opposed to By-law 5-1976 as it pertains to: the number of lots proposed; side of line provisions; and hereby requests the Ontario Municipal Board to reduce the said number of lots to sixteen (16) for the following reasons: Lots 1 and 2 are situated on low land, not suitable for sanitary facilities, and should be combined with Lot 3. Lots 11, 12 and 13 be combined, thereby providing a suitable location for sanitary facilities, as part of Lots 11 and 12 are low and would not support sanitary facilities without extensive fill. That Lots 18, 19 and 20 be combined, as Lots 19 and 20 fall into the same category as 11 and 12 mentioned above. Development of these lots, as originally proposed, would pose a potential danger to the water quality of the lake. That Lots 1 to 20 be increased to two hundred feet (200') frontage as shown on Schedule "A" attached to By-law 5-1976 to further reduce the number of saleable lots to fifteen and an additional lot (total 16 lots) which is to be deeded to the township as shown as Lots 25 and 26 on survey dated January 12, 1976, by William Coe.

Haliburton Highlights

by Creighton Feir

In the last week's issue of the Echo we stated that it was our wish that the holiday weekend would be filled with plenty of sunshine and warm weather. Well we hate to admit it, but old weatherman just didn't cooperate and we ended up with a very wet and damp weekend. As far as the retail merchants were concerned it meant more business as people flocked to town to shop. We have to feel sorry for all those who come here to bask in the sun.

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome Lieut. and Mrs. Ronald Mailman to the community. They are the new officers who will be in charge of the Salvation Army Corp in Haliburton. We hope that they will enjoy their stay with us.

The Haliburton Highlands Squash Club held their first annual Monster Rummage Sale at the Squash Club last Saturday. They are hoping that this will be an annual event.

The tennis courts at Rotary Beach are very busy these days and there are not too many times that the courts are not in use.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton met at Wig-A-Mog Inn at Haliburton last Thursday evening for their annual year-end meeting. Close to 60 men were present including 16 guests. Vince Connaughan was installed as the new president for the forthcoming year and in his opening speech he outlined some of the projects he would like to see the club undertake in the next 12 months. All those present enjoyed a lively sing song and a delicious buffet.

The annual Haliburton Legion Carnival will be held on Wednesday, July 18 and organizers tells us that they have a terrific parade lined up for the big event. This year's parade will have a military theme with no floats but plenty of bands and marching units. A great deal of work has gone into the organizing of this parade such as lining up bands and getting marching units to participate. We hope that everyone will join in to make this year's Legion Carnival parade a really big one. We hope to be able to give you more details on the carnival and parade in next week's paper. Make it a date now and plan to attend.

The motion picture "Meatballs" which was filmed at Camp White Pine and in other various locations in Haliburton and surrounding area will be opening at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton on Friday, July 13 and will be playing for a week. The

$1.6 million production could become one of the most commercially successful movies in Canadian film history. Bruce Kirkland, a writer for the Toronto Star, had this to say about the movie. "Don't judge a meal by the menu. Meatballs, the title of a new Canadian funny film, sounds as appetizing as a tasty noodle dinner from a can. It sounds gross, Surprise! Get past the name and Meatballs is a feast of tender, tasty delights. It's occasionally crazy, slightly off-the-wall, sometimes cleverly sarcastic and cynical, usually flippantly cliched, and often remarkably sentimental. But it's never groww. Meatballs is a send-up on life at a summer camp for kids. The central character is chief counsellor Tripper, portrayed with wacky zeal by Saturday Night Live refugee Bill Murray, in his movie debut. Tripper, with help from a motley crew of lovable counsellors-in-training, tries to run Camp North Star as a hybrid of M.A.S.H. and Hogan's Heroes, to the everlasting anguish of the camp director. No rules, no discipline, no hangups."

Haliburton's Third Annual Fiddling and Step Dancing Championships are all set for the Curling Club at Haliburton on Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14. Harold Bannon, chairman of the big event informed me this week that he is more than pleased with the way the entries are coming in. Programs start at 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. on Friday and 1:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Saturday with a dance after the Saturday evening finals. Music for the dance will be supplied by the famous singing and dancing family, The Frank Leahy Dance Band. There will be $2000 in cash prizes and there are seven classes for fiddlers and one class for the County of Haliburton municipalities only, also five classes for step dancing. Advance tickets may be obtained from several business establishments in Haliburton. Please see ad in this week's paper. A special occasion permit has been obtained for the Saturday night dance and for the bar which opens Friday night after the show. Playdowns will begin Saturday afternoon and finish at approximately 9:30 p.m. on Saturday evening. Trophies will be presented during this time.

The winners of the draw held at Extencicare during Nursing Home Week were as follows: quilt - Dora Elstone, Haliburton; rugs were won by M. Wynn of Lochlin, Dorothy Iles of Haliburton and J. Henderson of Newcastle.

While stopped at Austin's Esso at Minden recently I noticed a sign in big block letters in their window that really struck my eye. It read, Adam and Eve Started It - Atom and Evil End It. How true this is.

Dave Barras and equipment in back of van

Nearly $2000 in equipment given to squad

Monmouth first response team is ready for disaster

Dave Barras hopes he'll never have to use his training as a member of the first response team, because that training involves treating accident victims.

He is coordinator of the team, a branch of the Monmouth volunteer fire department which has been in operation since February.

The team's objective is to respond to an accident or rescue scene and implement life revival or first aid before the ambulance or a doctor arrives. The team transports victims only under extreme emergencies, if the ambulance operating out of Haliburton is working elsewhere, or if there are several injured. Fortunately, they've never had to work with any of these conditions.

The Ontario Ministry of Health and Welfare sponsored a two-day training for eight men from the department, and supplied $2,000 worth of life-saving equipment. Nearly all the men on the department have had St. John's first aid training before. Says Barras, "We basically learned how to use the equipment."

The equipment is housed in a two-year old van, which was converted from usage as an equipment carrier for the fire trucks. But despite its change in duty, Barras says that "Whenever we go to a fire, the van comes too."

Among the equipment contained in the van are a ventilator kit, a portable suction, a cervical board, a portable stretcher, dressings and oxygen tanks. The most expensive piece of equipment the vehicle contains are two Scott air packs, which cost $1000 apiece. The packs were already owned by the fire department before the ministry donated the equipment.

The team, at a scene, would usually treat victims for cuts, lacerations, broken bones, spinal injuries and generally any other type of injury that needs immediate attention. Most of the calls the department received previous to the first response training were heart attack victims. Now, the responsibility has expanded to the point where a systematic approach to life-saving has been adopted.

Upon arriving at a scene where there are several injured, the first major duty of the team is to ensure every victim is breathing. If someone is not, resuscitating equipment and first aid is put to use. Bleeding patients are treated next, on the idea that it takes a person longer die of blood loss than of brain damage. Victims with broken bones are treated next.

'Being a volunteer department, whoever can be notified will go'

The word 'team', says Barras, brings to mind all the men responding together to a scene. In fact, as long as one man responds, he can direct the firecrew to assist him if need be.

"Being a volunteer fire department, whoever can be notified will go," says Barras.

In addition to the above responsibilities, the team also will handle traffic or crowd control and rescue missions. But the majority of responses the team will likely handle within their area of coverage is car accidents. And Barras expects the team will be tested during the summer months. It's something the team has not had to respond to in their two-month existence. "I hope we never have to take that stuff out of the van," Barras says, "but if we do, we're ready."

Lieut. Ron Mailman

Salvation Army temple has new officer

The Salvation Army temple in Haliburton Village has a new officer.

Lieutenant Ron Mailman, 31, of the Salvation Army Corps was installed as the temple's new officer about two weeks ago. Lieut. Mailman comes to Haliburton from Gravenhurst where he served as the head officer at the temple there. Prior to his appointment in Gravenhurst, Lieut. Mailman attended the William Booth Memorial College for Salvation Army officers for two years. He was originally born and raised near Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

Lieut. Mailman has a wife, Linda, who is also a Salvation Army Lieutenant, and the couple have a seven-week old son, Michael. Lieut. Mailman says he is "impressed" with the scenery around Haliburton, and feels there is a "very good" Christian influence within the village itself.

"I really enjoy the people, particularly the ministers of the town - they're great."

A past journeyman carpenter, Lieut. Mailman says his hobbies include ventriloquism with his dummy, Andy, and playing and officiating in baseball. He is a certified umpire, and is currently officiating the games in the Haliburton men's recreational baseball league.

Nichol and playing coach Dick McLean, with hits in the inning also by Roger Still and Craig Wood.

Curry's came back with a run in the third inning, with Eric Martin batting in Mike Carpenter. From this point, it was a see-saw battle, with neither team scoring or getting on base until the bottom of the fifth, when Pete Lymburner notched a triple, and eventually scored for the run.

Both teams hammered at one another, but neither scored until the final inning, when Mike Blake connected and went around the bases for what looked like a triple. A four-run inning was made to third, and Blake scored for the home run. The final score: Region 4, Curry Motors 2.

Bernie Nicholls was the winning pitcher while Mark Schell took the loss.

Currently, LaRue Motors leads the league with five wins and one loss, and both Curry Motors and the Haliburton Legion are tied with three wins and three losses apiece. Haliburton Lumber is still in last place with one win and five losses.

With 12 or more at bats, the top ten on base in the last six games are as follows: Mike

Carpenter of Curry Motors with an average of .760, Bob Johnston of LaRue Motors with an average of .700, Steve Roberts of Curry Motors with an average of .667, Derwin Barry of Haliburton Lumber with an average of .611, Eric Martin of Curry Motors with an average of .565, Scott LaRue of LaRue Motors with an average of .556, Jim Debenham of LaRue Motors with an average of .538, Tom Curry of LaRue Motors with an average of .529, Derrell Stamp of LaRue Motors with an average of .529 and Mark Schell of Curry Motors with .500 and Brian Mulholland of LaRue Motors with an average of .500.
